British-Chinese Still Battle In Burma

Battle Of Burma Rages On After Fall Of Lashio

Fall Of Key City To Burma Road Leaves China Almost Blockaded

CHINA'S IMMEDIATE FUTURE IS CRITICAL

New Supply Routes Must Be Put Into Service—Chinese To Fight On

By G. D. KARKARE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, May 1.—The battle of Burma raged on today with the Chinese and British defenders determined to make the Japanese pay a high toll for any further gains following fall of the key city of Lashio, terminus of the vital Burma road.

Capture of Lashio completed the first major aim of the Japanese invasion of Burma, that of temporarily blockading China on all sides but the one along the Russian frontier. The immeditae future of China, was thus made extreinely critical, but the Chinese said their supply lines would immeditaely be shifted elsewhere.

Heavy battling still continued in the vicinity of Lashio as the Chinese forces under command of Lieut. Gen. Joseph Stilwell gave ground grudgingly as they were pushed back from the flaming war-torn city.

A spokesman in Chungking declared that the Chinese would con-

James Mayberry, city merchantile appraiser, received a most welcome surprise today. Unknown to him he apparently lost his pocketbook, and the first that he knew of the loss, was when he was called by phone by Louis Tammelleo, who is in charge of the parking ground at Kroger's market and informed him that his pocketbook had been picked up there. It was restored to Mr. Mayberry intact, and contained approximately $60 in cash, and a number of checks.

Anniversary Of Dewey's Battle At Manila Bay Finds Corregidor Defiant

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 1.—In contrast to the one-day battle of Manila Bay in the Spanish-American war just 44 years ago, gun-studded Corregidor today continued to blast back at Japanese invaders after nearly 21 weeks of merciless enemy aerial and artillery bombardment.

Although the tightening Japanese blockade eventually may force the valiant garrison on Corregidor to cease fighting because of lack of supplies, nevertheless the fort's gallant stand has served its purpose by preventing the Nipponese from using Manila Bay since the war began.

Destroyed Spanish Fleet

It was past this same island fortress that Commodore George Dewey sailed his American warships at midnight, May 1, 1898, and the following morning destroyed the Spanish fleet in Manila Bay.

Almost in contrast to the present battle of Manila Bay, Dewey accomplished his mission without the loss

Would Halt Awarding Officers' Commissions To Athletes, Actors, Etc.

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The bill providing pay increases for members of the armed forces today carried a restriction prohibiting the award of officers commissions to movie stars, athletes or other civilians not having previous military training.

Rep. Charles I. Faddis (D) Pa., author of the restriction, said that he drafted the amendment to end "what is amounting almost to a national scandal."

"There have been too many commissions handed out to inexperienced people," Faddis said. "People in my district have been asking me whether we're building an army to play football or to fight the Germans and the Japanese."

New York Mayor Is Hopping Mad

Million New Yorkers In Carnival Mood During Blackout Test

PEOPLE FAIL TO GET OFF STREETS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 1.—Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia was hopping "mad" today over the way 1,000,000 New Yorkers in carnival mood poured into Times Square and the theatrical district to watch mid-Manhattan stage its initial blackout test.

"They must not do it," the mayor exclaimed angrily, "the people must get off the streets. We're not going to have a wholesale slaughter."

Like the gay and happy-go-lucky crowds which throng the Great White Way on New Year's eve and election night, the Times Square district was jammed with humanity to watch the 20-minute production of "blackout over Broadway."

Though the peanut vendor, the balloon man and other hawkers were out in full force, the lack of confetti and the signing of "Auld Lang Syne" prevented the scene from becoming the biggest block party of the year.

In Total Darkness

With a yellow (bomber's) moon as the only source of light, the city of a million lights was turned into total darkness at the stroke of 9:30 p.m. last night.

"No smoking! Put those cigarettes out." Was the password of the overflow crowd which seemed intent on insuring a 100 per cent blackout.

Uniforms of the armed forces blended with the civilian throng in giving the scene a note of grim reality. American soldiers, sailors and marines as well as fliers, soldiers, sailors and seamen of allied nations—British, Australian and Dutch—watched a scene that is already familiar to them.

Traffic came to a halt and the New York which is the symbol of "life" to millions of movie-goers

Acquires Bell Bakery Building On Grove Street As New Quarters

MOVING MACHINERY INTO NEW BUILDING

Announcement was made today by the Lockley Brothers of the acquisition of the two-story brick building on Grove street, formerly owned by the Bell Bakery, for their machine shop work.

Increased orders in the past six months made it imperative that the machine shop company seek larger quarters and the deal for the new place was consummated on Thursday. The present location of the Lockley Machine company is on County Line street.

The acquisition of the new building will give the company 18,000 feet of floor space and will mean an increase in employed personnel from 44 men to about 100 before the end of the summer.

Organized In 1921

The Lockley Machine company was organized in 1921 by Harry L. Lockley, a craftsman, who decided to embark in the machine shop business on his own. Gradually his four sons entered the firm and today the four of them, E. C., S. L., J. E. and H. L. Lockley, operate the business. Some months ago Mr. Lock-

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, In Australia, May 1.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today that direct hits had been scored on a line of 30 grounded planes at the Japanese base of Lae, New Guinea, bringing the two-day total of enemy craft destroyed or damaged by United Nations fliers to 53.

The 30 grounded planes were attacked yesterday when Australian and American aces peppered the Lae airdrome with bombs and machine-gun fire. Well aimed bombs turned what once were hangars and ammunition dumps into blazing infernos.

Twenty Japanese bombers and fighters were reported smashed Wednesday in an attack on Lae.

'Eternal Light' Is Out Second Time

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 1.—For the second time in its 18-year history, the "Eternal Light" went out, its radiance snuffed from Madison Square for a period of 20 minutes.

But it was only symbolical, Mr. Hitler.

As part of Manhattan's black-out drill, city officials darkened the light designed to burn perpetually when it was first installed in the Square in 1924.

Once before—in 1933—the torch became the "Light That Failed" when the eletric bulb atop the shaft burned out. Because of the red tape involved in requisitioning a new bulb, the light remained dark for four days.

Henderson To Employ 20,000 To 30,000 More To Handle Price Control

By JACK VINCENT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 1—Price administrator Leon Henderson today made plans to hire at least 20,000 to 30,000 workers as the first step in what he described as the "tremendous task" of setting up 10,000 permanent "war price and rationing boards" throughout the country.

While Henderson and officials in his office refused to reveal how big a staff would be recruited, it was learned in other government circles that it will at least number between 20,000 and 30,000. It was pointed out that the selective service organization, with only 6,500 boards, has about 15,000 clerks on a $1,500,000-a-month payroll.

Need More Clerks

Henderson, it was reported, is quietly reorganizing local rationing boards to make them permanent. With these boards scheduled to handle retail prices, sugar, gas and automobile rationing, they will have paid staffs and clerks, all to be hired through civil service. The pay in most cases, probably will be limited to $1,800 a year, and average overall about $100 a month.

It was estimated that every local board will need at least two or three

LONDON, May 1 — Reports reaching London from Berne said that Adolf Hitler and Premier Benito Mussolini would meet today, probably at Munich, while dispatches from Berlin, by way of Madrid, suggested "sensational developments" were likely to take place during the week end.

The daily sketch at the same time reported that Reichmarshal Herman Wilhelm Goering had summoned a conference of all his air chiefs at Vienna May 4.

It was said that at the Goering conference, to be attended by air chiefs from the occupied countries and leading ace pilots, including many from the Russian front, new air defense plans will be discussed. Goering hopes to organize a new defense strategy, the report said.

WEST GREENWICH, R. I., May 1—Gov. J. Howard McGrath today declared martial law in the towns of Coventry, West Greenwich and Scituate, as fire, thought by authorities to be the work of saboteurs raged uncontrolled over 40 square miles of woodlands along the Rhode Island-Connecticut border.

The chief executive took the step after adjutant general Peter Leo Cannon, of the state guard, reported the fire out of control and urged that "drastic" military action be taken.

The governor left the state house at Providence by automobile for the scene where thousands of fire-fighters were striving to check the roaring flames.

LONDON, May 1 — The latest meeting between Adolf Hitler and Premier Mussolini undoubtedly means that "the lid will blow off somewhere soon," British officials said today.

The conference itself, they said, was probably a cut and dried affair with no immediate major decision taken. But they emphasized that it is part of the Axis window-dressing to stage such a session as a preliminary to some new act of aggression.

The last time the dictators met, it was emphasized, was just before Hitler's attack on Russia.

It probably was another case where Hitler simply summoned his obedient "Italian Gauleiter" to re-

LONDON, May 1.—German attempts to seek a truce in the mighty aerial combat which has wrought terrific destruction on Reich industrial areas, was answered today by British bomber and fighter planes soaring across the channel to blast Nazi territory for the ninth consecutive day.

Seek To Solve Transportation Problem

State Body To Plan Program

Series Of Conferences Being Started By P. U. C. At Harrisburg

SOLUTION OF STATE BOTTLENECK PLAN

By JOHN PAGET

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, May 1.—The Public Utility Commission today inaugurated the first of a series of meetings designed to solve the mass transportation problem in Pennsylvania.

More than a score of bus line officials, employers, local government representatives and the State Commerce Department met with the commission. They planned to discuss the problem, using Harrisburg and suburban areas as a "guinea pig," and then confer with officials in all other sections of the state to list their transportation bottlenecks.

Will Suggest Plan

When a state-wide picture has been obtained, the commission indicated it would suggest a broad outline to guide local communities in untangling the transportation snarl that started more than a year ago with a heavy influx of workers into industrial areas and commercial centers and became more acute since the state accelerated production with the nation's entry into war.

Raymond H. Smith, deputy secretary of commerce, emphasized that final solutions of local transportation problems must be found by local authorities.

"In order for this state-wide plan to be a success," he declared, "it not only needs the fullest cooperation of public officials, transportation companies and employers but it must have the 100 per cent. cooperation of every individual because this program can only be as successful as the people want it to be."

Survey Bottleneck

"The department started a survey of the transportation bottleneck months ago," he added, "and the seven field men we have throughout the state so far have received excellent cooperation from employers but we found that only one business man in 20 had thought of the problem."

John Siggins, Jr., chairman of the P.U.C., emphasized that the commission's policy that would govern the meetings was designed to assure efficiency service through abandonment of non-essential transportation routes. The commission ordered that all group or party service, except on special charter, must be abandoned after May 4 and the buses made available to augment existing facilities. The commission said there were 209 companies operating charter buses in the state and approximately 300 companies furnishing service to the public.

Siggins indicated that "corner to corner" bus service might be eliminated in favor of more rapid service between stops only at certain intervals and that service in non-rush hours probably would be curtailed.

Staggering working hours for many of Pennsylvania's 2,876,000 workers also will receive consideration, but Siggins indicated that switching dismissal hours was not enough to solve the transportation problem.

LONDON, May 1.—The possibility that British and Chinese troops in Burma can regroup their forces and make a counter-attack agains the Japanese at Lashio must not be out-ruled, a British military spokesman declared today.

He pointed out that British forces were in no way trapped by the rapid Japanese advance in the east and are capable of reorganizing.

London, May 1.—Max Aitken, son of Lord Beaverbrook and already holder of the distinguished flying cross, was officially credited today with a new German Dornier 217 of the latest type, shot down in a Nazi raid over England last night.

Aitken's squadron of Beaufighters knocked off four German bombers all told in the night's operations. The Dornier definitely went to Aitken's guns.

BRITISH EXPECT MOVE BY HITLER

ceive instructions and listen to plans for the future already decided upon, one observer declared scathingly.

Recall Last Meeting

This observer pointed out that the last meeting of the German Fuehrer and the Italian Premier at the Brenner Pass preceded the German attack on Russia last June.

"I don't know what neutral holding a non-aggression pact with the Axis is next on the list," he remarked sarcastically.

Undoubtedly, Mussolini was told of Hitler's plans for the summer, but authoritative circles felt it was "anybody's guess" as to whether the Fuehrer's program called for major moves on the Russian front, through the Mediterranean or against England itself.

In any event, they agreed, Mussolini undoubtedly gave Hitler his "complete approval" of the plans as outlined.

Previous meetings between Hitler and Mussolinin have all been followed by big developments, the observers pointed out.

Hence it is logical to expect "the lid to blow off somewhere soon," they said.

of a single American life, whereas the present conflict has resulted in heavy casualties, especially among the invading forces.

Proof that casualties and damage on Corregidor from aerial bombardment and constant shelling have been comparatively light as borne out by the fact that the fort's guns have continued to bark defiance and death at the enemy.

Picture Darkening

Throughout the Philippines however, the picture appeared to be darkening for isolated American-Filipino defenders as the Nipponese pressed on to extend their domination to all the key islands of the vast archipelago.

A new landing by Japanese on the southern island of Mindano constituted a threat to defending patrols which have harassed the invaders since the outbreak of war. Invasion of the islands of Negros and Bohol also was expected momentarily.

Lessening of aerial activity in the Manila area indicated that the Japanese probably have withdrawn most of their aircraft temporarily for the battle of Burma.

Military experts believe, however, that even if resistance on the present scale collapses in the Philippines, isolated American-Filipino units will continue harassing the Japs at every turn, pending America's anticipated offensive to drive the Nipponese from Pacific areas now under their control.

While officially the navy has maintained silence for more than a week, Pacific fleet units are known to be searching the seas for Japanese warships and supply vessels in an effort to cut the enemy's extended lines of communication.

$42 a month and corresponding increases up through the grade of second lieutenant, was approved unanimously by the house military affairs committee. Pay boosts also are provided for the navy, coast guard, marine corps and geodetic survey.

Take Measure Up Soon

Rep. May (D) Ky., chairman of the military group, said he hoped to take the measure up in the house about next Wednesday. Already approved by the senate, the bill will have to be sent back to that chamber for concurrence in house amendments.

Another change written into the bill by the house committee forbids the payment of bonuses for the reenlistment of former service men.

A proposal to make the pay increases in war bonds was rejected by the committee, however.

The Faddis amendment prohibits the commissioning of anyone except those who have graduated from West Point or Annapolis or received military training in the army or national guard or attended accredited ROTC schools. Doctors, dentists, veterinarians and ministers are exempted from the provision.

Criticism Heard

One member of the committee said that the army has been commissioning "technical men galore" for ground duty with the air corps and service in the motor transport corps. More than 100 personnel boards have been set up throughout the country, he said, to give preliminary physical examinations to civilians and recommended them for commissions.

Criticism has been heard from several members of congress. Rep. O'Toole (D) N. Y., said in an address to the house:

"Our fighting men do not need their morale raised, nor will it be raised by professional athletes who enter the service without any training whatsoever and immediately take commissions or ratings over men who have given as much as 10, 15 or 20 years to the service."

"I am criticising those who, while they wear the uniform and take the plaudits of the multitude, have engineered themselves into feather beds where they are exempt from the many menial, tiring, back-breaking and morale-shattering duties that are common to the ordinary enlisted man.

"I sincerely hope that our armed services will recognize that this kind of favoritism is a morale crusher for the patriotic men who are now doing battle for their country and who are willing to do any task, whether it entails glory or not."

SCORE HITS ON 30 JAP PLANES AT BASE AT LAE

They were fighters shot out of the air when they attempted to intercept the United Nations craft.

Employing strafing tactics which previously had been used to great advantage by the Japs but which since have been utilized more successfully by the United Nations, the American and Australian pilots combed the Jap airfields and installations with bombs and withering machine-gun fire.

Corregidor Gets Bombers

Even the beleaguered American fortress of Corregidor contributed in the past two days to the bag of enemy planes. Guns at that Manila Bay bastion accounted for some three Jap bombers out of 12 which attacked the rocky fortress.

Significantly, for the first time in a number of weeks the Japs failed to attempt a raid against Port Moresby or send reconnaissance ships over that New Guinea United Nations base. It was believed that the force of American attacks against Lae and Salamaua may have neutralized the Jap aerial attacks for a day or else they by-passed Port Moresby to attack Horn Island, another United Nations base of the northern-most tip of Queensland. An initial attacks there by eight Jap bombers, escorted by fighters, was disclosed by Gen. MacArthur. He said the damage was negligible.

The current actions by the United Nations squadrons are believed to have been devised by the late Brig. Gen. Harold H. George who was leaving to go north to take direct command of operations when he was killed in an accident at an airfield.

The two-day score piled up by the United Nations fliers enables them to make easy claim, for at least another day, to air superiority over the vital regions holding the fate of Australia.

HENDERSON TO EMPLOY 20,000 TO 30,000 MORE clerks to start with, as that was the experience of the draft boards. In addition, Henderson plans to employ professional price checkers. The number was not disclosed but the price boss, it was learned, will "borrow" inspectors from the wages and hours division, the bureau of labor statistics and other government agencies.

The local boards will be confronted with "mountains" of paper work. After May 18, when the general price ceiling on all retail prices becomes effective, every one of the 1,900,000 wholesalers and retailers in the nation will be registered. The boards by that time will have the record of the sugar and gasoline registrations.

As shortages of civilian products become more acute, there will be more, more and more registration, rationing and coupon books and cards.

JAP WARSHIPS CONCENTRATING IN MID-PACIFIC

the past week has reached such proportions that war experts in the nation's capital feels certain the enemy plans to deliver another blow against the United Nations soon.

Truk and Ponape lie between the Japanese-Mandated Caroline and Marshall islands and just above the strategic Solomon islands, which already have been invaded by small enemy units.

Reliable sources in Washington assert that the most likely move would be one against the Solomons, but they do not discount the possibility that the Nipponese may strike at New Caledonia or the Australian mainland before more American forces arrive at those points.

United States army forces recently arrived at New Caledonia to aid Free French units in defending that important island, which forms the southern tip of America's supply line to Australia. The Japanese for weeks have been aiming in that direction to cut the supply route.

Meanwhile other enemy naval units have been gathering in force in the Philippine area in a move to cut communications between American-Filipino forces still resisting the Japanese on scattered islands in the Archipelago.

BATTLE OF BURMA RAGES ON AFTER FALL OF LASHIO

tinue to fight to the last man in Burma despite the onslaught of the invading mechanized forces of Japan.

Whether the capture of Lashio will cut off the 5th and 6th Chinese armies still fighting in the vicinity of Mandalay could not be forseen immediately, although the rapid advance of the invaders to the east has driven a wedge between the Chinese around Lashio and the Chinese and British forces to the west.

High Mountain Country

The forces around Mandalay may be able to fall back toward the mountains to the north through which the Chinese most probably have laid out alternate routes to retain a connection with India. The course, it was pointed out, is extremely difficult because of the height of the peaks, some of which stretch to 20,000 feet. Official maps of many of the areas note that some of the heights are unknown.

Imperial forces and Chinese troops, it is felt here, are sufficiently strong for the time being to hold off any immediate Japanese attempt to strike against India. The invaders would have to traverse mountain passes to reach India's northeast frontier and it is believed the defending forces can check the Japanese until onset of the heavy rains. The Monsoon then would make it impossible for the Japanese to cross for at least another five months.

ATTACK ON RANGOON

New Delhi, May 1.—American flying fortresses under command of Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton have launched a smashing new assault on the vital Japanese supply base of Rangoon, in Burma, it was announced today.

MOSCOW REPORT SAYS 13,000 ENEMY TROOPS ARE LOST

unit operating in the Barents Sea and destruction of 31 German planes in aerial battles Wednesday were also claimed in a communique. Eleven Russian planes were lost, the report said.

Reports reaching Moscow from the fighting front near Orel reported that the Red army had hurled the Nazi forces westward and inflicted heavy losses in that sector. Observers believed this new success was the break-through in German lines admitted by Berlin communiques recently.

Russian guerilla forces, who have played such a major part in the winter advances against the Germans, were reported to be scoring new victories at many different points along the extensive front.

THE FILIPINOS

ONE great source of satisfaction to the American people, despite the outcome of the initial battles, the result of which will undoubtedly be changed when Uncle Sam takes the initiative, is the brave and patriotic conduct of the Filipino people in standing shoulder to shoulder with the American people in resisting the Japs.

Their conduct is in shining contrast to that of the natives in some other countries which have been subject to Japanese attack. In Malaya the natives were entirely indifferent, in some instances favoring the invaders, while the Burmese have actually gone into rebellion against their British protectors and have organized guerilla bands which are working with the Japanese and harassing the troops of the United Nations. In the Dutch and British East Indies there was no apparent enthusiasm on the part of the natives for the defense being put up by the white men—at least there was no such brand of resistance as was put up by the Filipinos.

There is some reason for this. The Filipinos are fighting for something worth while—their liberty. They appreciate the things which have been done for them by our government and have stood shoulder to shoulder with our soldiers ever since the sneak attack at Pearl Harbor.

On the other hand, in Malaya and Burma the natives have had no such training in the processes of free government and no hope of complete liberty as have the Filipinos. Perhaps these others are not ready for such transition and perhaps they neither deserve nor could property handle independence. But whatever the truth is, it must be admitted that the Filipinos have justified everything the American government has done for them and show a real appreciation of it.

The contrast between native conduct in the Philippines, in Malaya and in Burma is a distant one, distinctly favorable to the sturdy Filipinos themselves.

CANADA FREE TO DO STILL MORE

The vote of almost two to one, by which the people of Canada have released their government from its pledge not to draft soldiers for service abroad, is especially impressive because of the overwhelming opposition expressed by the province of Quebec. In this showing that section, dominated by citizens of French descent ran true to form. During the World War they also opposed conscription for foreign service. Old traditions and convictions are still strong in Quebec.

The Dominion has been making a splendid contribution to the cause of the United Nations, considering her small population and meagre resources. The number of volunteers for overseas should soon reach the half million mark. In the first year of this war 360,000 voluntarily enrolled "for service anywhere." In terms of population this would be equivalent to more than four million men for the United States.

All troops sent abroad are equipped and maintained at the Dominion's expense. In a single year Canada has sent supplies costing a billion and a half dollars to Great Britain on a lease-lend basis. This means that Canadians provided the funds. In the first year 40 cents out of every dollar earned in Canada went to the war. The amount has since been increased.

Now the way has been opened for a still greater contribution of man power for the most effective kind of defense; a vigorous offensive all along the line.

PRICE-FIXING MAY NEED CHANGES

Certain details of the order for over-all price-fixing, one of several imperative measures for curbing costs of living, have aroused criticisms and protests. Considering the extent and complexity of the administrator's task, this was inevitable. Mr. Henderson confesses that the new regulations are of such magnitude that even the authors "cannot fully visualize their ramifications."

The prime purpose of this price-fixing is to protect the consumer by preventing any further increases. But we are all consumers, we all require food and clothing at reasonable prices and safeguards against unwarranted drains on our earnings, whether we are employees or owners of businesses.

So in the interest not only of fairness but of preserving our whole economic structure, the government cannot afford to place intolerable financial burdens on any class of the community. This is particularly true of retailers, who require ample time for proper adjustment of their prices to the wholesale rate. As the order stands, both wholesale and retail prices are to be frozen as of the month of March. The plan becomes effective for retailers on May 18, only one week after its application to wholesalers.

A time lag of at least 60 days had been sought to enable retail dealers to prepare for the new system. It is said that retailers generally have not marked up prices to accord with what they have had to pay wholesalers and that food stores operating on a narrow margin may be especially hard hit.

But co-operation is the keynote of our war effort and Mr. Henderson promises adjustments of rules where special hardship is shown. A general price ceiling is necessary if costs of living are to be controlled. For preventing individual injustices reliance will have to be placed on the local boards of appeal, as in the case of the equally difficult problems raised by the rationing system.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Riddles are not popular with the Japs, particularly riddles as to whence come Allied bombers.

Allies are planning a spring and summer air offensive from England that will wipe half of Germany off the map. This time, apparently, they are going to have half enough.

It costs more to live in America than any other country in the world but all of us will have to admit that it is worth more. In fact, in many countries it is hard to live at all, and scarcely worth trying.

Mussolini, it is now reported, sits by the hour reminiscing about the days of his youth when he was a socialist, etc. The old coot seems not to remember that he was once so powerful he could make the trains run on time.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SENDING CHILDREN TO PLACES OF SAFETY

AS A SAFETY measure, some parents in coastal cities are sending their children to the country. While conditions do not at present seem to warrant such steps on a large scale, these measures might not be at all unwise for some families, especially when the whole family can go together.

However, with the scarcity of tires, relatively few breadwinners can afford to live far away from centers of industry. Relatively few entire city families, therefore, can move to country places.

Here are some questions parents might ask themselves before separating from their children: Will the place where my child is going have pure food and water? Will the child be guided as well in the new home away from one or both parents? How much will he miss of family and home affection?

Visiting Rural Relatives

Some grandparents and other relatives will do a fine job with children sent to them from big cities. Some others will only pamper these children who will prove serious burdens to both the relatives and their neighbors. Of course, practically all rural relatives will be ready at any sacrifice to become protectors of children, should a serious emergency arise.

It seems to me that all parents of growing children in cities should have clearly in mind the need of fitting these children, now, for possible adaptation to being sent to safer places whether in homes of relatives, strangers or camps, should such be necessary.

Therefore, as never before, these children need:

1. Discipline. They need to learn to respect authority. To this end most parents should aim to cultivate obedience at home and encourage obedience at school. Most parents should be more exacting on such matters as having the elementary school child make a beeline to the house when the lights appear; having him learn to send himself to bed as a reasonable, regular hour each night; get himself off to school each morning promptly, and the like.

Needs Self-Reliance

2. Self-reliance. How very essential is self-reliance to the child who will be sent away from home. He needs emotional as well as physical self-reliance so he can avoid needless heartaches when separated from his parents or other loved ones; so he can get along comfortably with new adults responsible for him and new playmates.

3. Responsibility. So desirable at all times, good habits of responsibility are obviously very precious possessions for war emergencies. The child who learns now to help about the home, doing cheerfully the many chores which are not always pleasant to do, has invaluable training, should he be sent from his city family. How fortunate if the adults who will care for him then have skills in furthering such habits of responsibility in him or developing in him good habits.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. Please suggest ways whereby the girl entering her teens might be guided wisely in her attitude toward boys, especially those in uniform.

A. Through opportunities to mingle with many boys and girls in a wholesale environment. By adequate controls in her earlier years tempered with love and understanding by parents who have earned her esteem.

Q. Name some rules which should guide parents in writing their son in the armed forces.

A. Write regularly whether he does or not. Write newsy, interesting letters. Avoid anything of gloom or discouragement. Write with cheer and hope. Let no letter leave you without something in it to arouse a smile or chuckle. Both parents should write.

Q. "Do you have helps for mothers as well as children in arithmetic? I work in a store, but I still count on my fingers." She enclosed a stamped envelope.

A. Yes; you will need to learn the same facts and skills in arithmetic a child must learn, only you will go at it with a stronger purpose. First learn by heart the basic addition facts. There are only 100 of them. Then the 100 basic subtraction facts, mastering four or five an evening. Keep reviewing those you have already learned before they slip away. Any one can make these combinations by putting together all the possible ones from 6 to 9 inclusive. Or, if it is preferred, you might write me at 233 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp on it, and have them, without cost.

Q. "Is a child 22 months of age, who feels himself, too young to understand the meaning of NO? What particular things should NO be said about?"

A. He could have understood it much earlier. Limit NO to a few known constant dangers and a very few harmful or destructive acts which you can always witness and follow with immediate pain.

Bible Thought For Today

Sons inherit all their father's treasures, but they must learn responsibility through suffering. Otherwise they would be unworthy of the inheritance: Though he was a son, yet learned obedience by the things he suffered.—Hebrews 5:8.

CHIVALRY

Too many men take it for granted that old-fashioned chivalry is dead, that there is no place for it in our modern world of haste.

To a certain extent, it is. The bow from the waist which every gentleman affected a few decades ago is little more than a pleasant memory. And a man seldom rises in a street car to give his seat to a woman, unless the woman is very old and feeble or a mother with babe in arms.

This is no doubt due to woman's emancipation from her do-nothing era (when her gentility was gauged by the frequency of her fainting spells) to the business world of fame and accomplishment, in which she has shown her ability to compete with the stronger sex.

Although by her own ability she may have become financially independent, attained fame and need no man's assistance to get along in the world, she does appreciate those little attentions that the daughters of Eve have welcome since the beginning of time. And that is why the man who has finesse in his contacts with women is usually preferred by them even above their more prosperous rivals with less chivalry.

Such men will rise when a woman acquaintance enters or leaves the room and will remain standing until she is seated; draw out her chair for her at the table and see that she is comfortably seated; pick up what she drops; help her put on her coat; hold the door open while she procedes him going out; assist her into a vehicle, allowing her to precede him; alight first from a vehicle that he may lend his assistance to her; proceed first down a theater aisle or to the table in a restaurant if there is no usher or headwaiter present to show her to a seat; follow if there is such an attendant, raise his hat when meeting or leaving (no matter how well he knows her). Such courtesies will, in her eyes, mark him a gentleman and warm the cockles of her heart.

Question: I have heard that pictures should not be hung over doors and windows. Is this true? If so, why?—G. G. G.

Answer: They should not be hung over doors and windows for these reasons: They cannot be plainly seen there and when hung there they attract attention to the ceiling which is not a place to emphasize. They should be hung so that they will meet the level of the eyes of a person of average height.

Airplane Plays Tremendous Part In War
Few Realize Its Potential Possibility
Development Of Air Arm Has Been Rapid

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, May 1.—If a kid wants to get into the Army he heads for West Point. If he wants to get into the navy he heads for Annapolis. There's no such recognized institution waiting for him, though, to teach him military aviation. He's got to learn that the best way he can. Instruction is available enough in the flying of passenger and mail planes and cargo carriers, but I'm assuming that this lad's anxious to especially on wartime activity, just as a West Point or Annapolis student does on operations of the particular service he's hoping to graduate into.

Air enthusiasts are clamoring that their arm is just as much entitled to a big central university as the Army and Navy are, respectively.

Such experts as Major Alexander De Seversky and Charley Lindbergh, now in charge of Henry Ford's aviatorial productivity, have spoken for it. In fact, they've hollered. The major's more vocal than Charley, who never does say much but he's on record.

ccording to military cloudsmen the generality of folk simply haven't yet realized what aviation will do shortly to the art or science of business of up-t-odate warfare. Army and Navy professionals are included in the generality. Indeed, growl the cloudlanders, the surface scrappers are rather super-unwilling to recognize that they're due to be outclassed soon by flying's development.

How Fighting Progressed

The guess is ventured that warriors of yore were similarly slow at sensing the imminence of change in details of their occupation's requirements.

Originally fists presumably were relied on, perhaps with biting and scratching as auxiliary tactics. Presently clubs were introduced; then the chucking of missiles—pieces of rock and such stuff. Next the clubs were sharpened into swords and slings were devised to give added impetus to the hurling, as in the case of David nad Goliath. Spears started to figure.

It was pretty short-range work, nevertheless. William of Normandy evolved the longbow and, with it, whaled the tar out of the shorter-range English at Hastings.

"Yet, even then, troops couldn't be transported from front to front at as lively a pace as commanders desired, so Genghis Khan invented cavalry and what he did to Europe with 'em was a-plenty.

Presently—gunpowder!

If anybody, at that stage of the game, had suggested the creation of a government department on gunpowder as a warfare essential, I'd gamble that he'd have been rated as recommending as useless an outfit as Lowell Mellett's Office of Government Reports is advertised today.

Look at it, though, as of the moment's writing!

AFTER DEFEAT

Hate and misery and pain,
Clank of military gear,
Just to threaten and restrain.
Gone the laughter and the song,
Gone the old-time joy in life,
All is bitterness and wrong,
Filth and poverty and strife.

See the pictures that escape
From the German's watchful eye!
Note the tagged clothes which drape
Every broken passer-by!
Look on misery and want,
Little children, gaunt and pale,
Sights the bravest hearts to daunt!
These line every tyrant trail.

See what happens when the foe
Overthrows a people free.
Through the alleys women go
Clutching every crust they see.
Invalids untended lie!
All is hunger, death and pain!
This the sort of peace men buy
When they think to fight is vain.

Hints On Etiquette

Don't, when dining in a fine restaurant, change your order when it has definitely been given to the waiter. Once the order has reached the kitchen the chef immediately begins its preparation, and if it is changed the dish is a loss to the house.

The World and the Mud Puddles

TIME TO ACT

There will be an entirely new House of Representatives elected next November by the voters of this nation. It seems to be a very difficult matter for the voters to choose wise and efficient law makers for this nation.

The Primary election at which are chosen the candidates for the different political parties should serve as a means of choosing the right man, but the Primary does not do this. Usually, the candidates whose names are put before the voters at the Primaries are men chosen by the different political bandits of the nation. I think I can say "bandits" advisedly. Take the Kelley-Nash machine in Chicago. This machine is a very efficient gangster machine. The candidates which it backs will probably be elected at the November election. They will be men who will do the will of the machine. The same can be said about the Hague machine in Jersey City and the same thing can be said about different political machines all over the nation.

The citizens of this nation are being robbed right and left by the government in the saddle in Washington and a great many of these citizens are very indignant about it. It is possible for them to rise up on their hind legs and elect someone who is not a "yes" man, except that he will say "yes" to any intelligent scheme to purge the nation's payrolls of useless office holders; to eliminate the useless bureaus. The people of this nation are now sorely vexed not at the spending of money for defense purposes but the spending of money to keep in office the thousands of politicians who are absolutely valueless to the people themselves.

Waste, extravagance and political spending are incompatible with an all-out struggle for total victory in a war that will cost an unpredictable amount of money. And this waste and political spending is an insult to those who must pay the cost of this greatest of all wars—virtually every man, woman and child in this United States, directly or indirectly.

There will be some elected next November who will have a very fervent desire and purpose of ending this extravagance, but it is up to the people to choose at their Primaries held during the next few months men whom the people know will do the people's will and not be led by the political gangsters of this nation.

The kid next door has a new pair of pants.

He is a growing boy.

In three months his mother will have to let the cuffs down.

But there aren't any cuffs.

So his mother will buy him a new pair of pants.

Problem—Figure out how much wool we saved on that transaction.

The answer in the back of the book is that the country gained six pen wipers out of the cuffs.

But the country will have to produce another pair of pants in three months.

Anybody got any suggestions?

Cut 'em off at the knees? Splendid. But he won't like it.

A businessman said to his secretary the other day, "Miss Jones, if you don't stop thinking, I'll have to let you go."

Indignantly the secretary said, "I always thought that people get paid for thinking."

Then the boss explained to her that, unfortunately, very many people don't know the difference between thinking and guessing.

"Just a little while ago," he said, "I asked you the price of a certain printing job.

"Your reply was, 'I think it was two hundred dollars.' You weren't thinking at all. You were just guessing, in hope that your memory served you well.

"In other words you were simply too lazy to go to the files and look up the bill."

Thinking is one of those convenience-words. When you look out of the window, day-dreaming, you can always say you are thinking.

When you make a mistake, a most convenient alibi is to say you thought you were right.

There's a difference between thinking and thinking you are thinking.

Child Health Day Brings Observations From Roger Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1942—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 1.—As today is Child's Health Day, I should like to write of children as an investment and insurance. First, let me say that I believe in standard life insurance as sold by strong companies. Parents, however, should not depend wholly upon such policies or even upon stocks, bonds, or real estate. Their only sure protection is a family of healthy, intelligent and God-fearing children.

BABSON

God's Children

Talk about miracles! Are there any comparable with the conception of a little child? I have in mind not the tiny eyebrows, the perfect finger nails and these obvious things which appeal to mothers—but rather the child's marvelous unseen digestive, circulatory, nervous and other systems. Consider the power to see and to hear—to taste and to smell! The mechanisms of the eye and brain alone far excel any invention by man.

Think of the possibilities of the brain of a little child. Realize its ability for analysis, leadership and happiness. How it can devise ways for the health, prosperity and peace of mankind! There is no reason why there should not be thousands of Edisons, Marconis and Fords—thousands of Shakespears, Dickinses and Longfellows; thousands of Darwins, Pasteurs and Einsteins.

Good Breeding Essential

Of course, we must use common sense in breeding children just as we would use in breeding animals, trees or plants. We must have good stock. Some people are not fitted for parenthood. Hence, young people should take care with whom they mate. There is, however, enough good stock to breed a constantly growing and better race if the value of children could be appreciated. By value I do not mean something dreamy and idealistic in the future. I refer to a definite and concrete value in dollars and cents.

BUT—and here is the difficulty—children are like farms, factories, stores and every other business; they will not grow or succeed by themselves. Children need constant thought and care. Children usually will not be assets if treated as luxuries or even if merely "loved". Children should be looked upon as investments. An account should be kept of every dollar spent upon them and they should be trained to repay many fold. If, therefore, we will give time and thought to the training of our children—as we give to our business and pleasures—they are sure to return marvelous dividends.

Nature's Plan

The first command in the Bible is to "multiply and replenish the earth". Until recent years large families have been synonomous with Christian homes. The morality of the world depends basically upon the proportion of children which the better families bring into the world. Statistics as to school houses, church buildings, college endowments, missionary gifts, etc., are largely window dressing. Raising a family of good children is the first duty of men and women.

A realization of the above facts is the great need of America today. Money, pensions and social legislation may soon be of little value under present declining birth rate tendencies. Remember what is happening to France and is perhaps happening to England! Besides, the cycle of life indicates that we are gradually returning to that period when land and children will again be our main assets. Wise are those young people who now anticipate coming events by investing in and developing nature's really sound investments.

Looking Ahead

Many are wondering what will happen after World War II—to our economic system, to our political traditions, and to the church. We assume that those now in control will decide these questions. We forget that we oldsters are gradually passing out of the picture and that an entirely new group will have unlimited power. The answer lies without children. What are we doing to train them for these coming responsibilities?

Our present American way of life exists because of a certain balance of power made up in right proportions of employers and wage workers, educators and students, church members and "outsiders", conservatives and radicals. The success of America has been due largely to the diversification of these groups in proper proportions. But what if these proportions are upset? Such a misfortune will occur unless the spiritual, intellectual and conservative families continue to propagate at least as rapidly as they have in the past and train their children in Christian citizenship. Let every community have a budget for new babies from good stock.

His contention is that the Nips thought they were safe, not having been directly smashed at. Now they know better, for the raid on 'em is adequately verified. Their military class is a suicidal crew, but their rank and file are referred to by Jan Masaryk as exceptionally good quitters. Besides, he remarks, they will have to keep their planes at home, for defensive purposes, instead of shooting 'em abroad, for bombings of places like Pearl Harbor.

Let Japan blow up, and Jan's prediction is that Italy'll follow over night.

Conquered Europe will rebel at the first opportunity, Jan forecasts.

Premier Franco of Spain, hitherto a pro-Axisite, certainly won't want to come in at any such juncture.

Minus Italy and Japan, and with Spain gone flooey, and with all the Balkans and the Low Countries, probably, on the rampage, Jan anticipates a German outbreak of anti-Hitlerism.

And, of course, there still will be the United States, Britain and China and Russia remaining for dolf, to be dealt with.

Some prognosticators speak of a probable four or five-year prolongation of the muss. Jan Masaryk hints at a fizzling out of it quite unexpectedly. The Germans, he observes, are not last-ditchers—as witness the last war.

Why argue about a foolish idea? If those who defend it were capable of reason, they wouldn't believe it.

Group To Attend World Sodality Day

Local Sodalists To Represent Various Catholic Churches Of City At Pittsburgh

Misses Helen Maher, Louise Capperelli, Mary Chill, Dorothy Cummings, Rhea Davis, Sarah Gegbriel and Charlotte Leonardo, of New Castle, Pa., and Rose Metz of Ellwood City and Virginia Montozzi of Wampum, will officially represent the Lawrence County Sodality Union in World Sodality Day ceremonies in St. Paul's Cathedral, Pittsburgh, Sunday, May 10, at 3 o'clock. The Lawrence county, which embraces this area, is one of the 11 District Sodality Unions comprising the diocese of Pittsburgh.

The Cathedral ceremonies will be featured by a colorful Rosary procession of prayer for Victory and a traditional May Crowning ritual. The sixty chosen Sodalists in the Rostry procession will carry rosaries and form a human rosary as well. These sixty young women will lead the entire Cathedral assemblage in the prayers of the Rosary for world peace and victory for America.

The May Crowning ritual has deep religious significance. A garland of flowers, or crown, is placed on the statue of Mary, the Mother of God. This has its counterpart in civic life when on occasion wreathes are placed upon statues or monuments erected to civic leaders in recognition of their great deeds and service to humanity. The crown is placed upon the Virgin Mary's status as a mark of honor and token of affection, as well as a dedication to the ideals which have made her blessed among women.

A special shrine for the occasion will be erected to our lady where the ceremonies will take place. A color scheme of blue and white will prevail.

Thousands of Sodalists will be in attendance, representing the 350 parishes spread throughout the ten counties of Western Pennsylvania which form the diocese. Similar programs will be held in other dioceses all over the United States and throughout the world.

Miners Needed At State Mines

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., May 1.—The labor shortage has reached a critical stage in the anthracite fields and more than 1300 men are sought to take jobs in the mines of two major coal companies, it was disclosed Thursday.

The Glen Alden and Pennsylvania Coal companies made known that they have exhausted existing methods to get 1300 men and other steps to get workers are planned. Some companies, the operators asserted, are considering placing advertising in war industry cities for miners and laborers. They feel that many former miners and laborers working in defense plants away from Pennsylvania coal fields will return when they learn there are jobs in mines for them.

The heads of some coal companies blamed the government for failure to certify the anthracite industry as a defense industry for the labor shortage at the mines. Company officials also said that the shortage will grow more acute as the war progresses and more men are taken in the draft.

Don't Store Cars Is A. A. A. Advice

Use Autos Wisely Is Advice Of American Automobile Association

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 1 — The American Automobile Association today advised the 20,000,000 passenger car owners who are not taken care of in the tire-rationing program not to put their cars in storage but to use them wisely.

An AAA official said that the wise motorist is the one who takes an inventory of his tires, determines what mileage he has in them and uses his car so as to extend that mileage and operate the vehicle over as long a period as possible.

Every day of disuse of your car takes a heavy toll of both car and tires, the official said. The smart car owner will ration his mileage rather than store his car.

If the car must be stored, the AAA executive said there are certain precautions to be observed:

1. Prevent rust and corrosion in the engine by using a corrosion inhibior. Leave in clean oil and drain the gasoline tank.
2. Place the car on blocks to relieve tension on any parts. Set the hand brake.

Place the battery in storage or if it is to left for a long period, remove the acid.

4. Leave water in the radiator but use a rust inhabitor.
5. Have the car lubricated, washed and waxed.
6. Rags should be tied over engine openings to prevent wasps from building mud nests.
7. The car's upholstery can be protected from both dirt and moth by scattering three pounds of flake naphthalone over the cushions and the upholstery.

Military Court Martial Starts In Ireland A. E. F.

(International News Service)

SOMEWHERE IN NORTHERN IRELAND, May 1—Sergeant William V. Clipsham, of Narberth, Pa., went on trial Thursday in the first general military court martial of the AEF in Northern Ireland.

He was charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Albert Rodden, an Irish bus driver, on April 17.

The defense contends that Rodden's bus broke into a convoy in front of a scout car under Clipsham's command and failed to heed repeated warnings to leave the convoy line. When the scout car attempted to pass the bus, Rodden forced it against the curb and Clipsham was thrown against a machine gun which was accidently discharged, killing Rodden, according to the defense.

The scout car driven by Private Thomas Felice, of Delmar, Del., carried Corporal Armand Luzi, Norristown, Pa., and Privates Ray Doughty, Sioux City, Ia.; John Fraula, New York City, and Frank Sroaka, Akron, Ohio.

Defense counsel includes Captains Fred Kraschel, Harlan, Ia., and Floyd Warren, Minneapolis, Minn. The prosecutor is Captain Alois Wartner, of Harvey, N. Dakota.

Entomologists Lead Fight On Insect Pests

(International News Service)

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—Entomologists at the Pennsylvania State college are taking a leading part in the fight to control insect pests which annually cost apple growers $30,000,000.

Four hundred different insects attack apple trees and, despite all that is done to combat them, the pests damage trees and fruit to the extent of $13,000,000 yearly, according to Dr. Stuart W. Frost, professor of economic entomology. In addition, he said, cost of control ranges at least $17,000,000 a year.

Average loss in commercial orchards is around 12 per cent of the fruit crop, but when nothing is done to attack the insects, losses may run as high as 100 per cent.

Pierre J. Huss Believes Hitler May Be Nearing Beginning Of Crack-up

By J. C. OESTREICHER
International News Service Foreign Editor

NEW YORK, May 1.—To the growing tide of belief that Adolf Hitler's Nazi Reich is at last beginning to crack—although a sudden, major coup of arms may temporarily heal the fissures—was added today the testimony of an American newspaperman who probably knew the fuehrer at closer range than any other correspondent.

At a singularly opportune time, with British government leaders and the office of facts and figures in Washington presenting evidence that the German civil and military machine may finally be weakening, the presses today turned out a straight-from-the-shoulder volume by Pierre J. Huss, for more than eight years chief Berlin correspondent of International News Service.

Published by Doubleday Doran and entitled "The Foe We Face", the book gives the first really sound answers to the major questions of the day—how did Hitler get there and how can he be disposed of.

On Toughest Assignment

Drawing on his years of experience as a hard-hitting correspondent on the toughest assignment imaginable in a capital where war was the watchword from the moment Hitler took office, Huss supplies these salient observations:

Hitler got where he is because he struck a popular note, then hauled out the Jews as "whipping boys" for a nation that had felt itself unjustly treated by the world since Versailles, and then regimented every last man, woman and child into the structure of a war machine consecrated to battle and victory alone.

He will be disposed of because he is afraid of President Roosevelt and of the might and power of the United States, and because of the fact his revolution swept the gutters of its filthiest scum, has had to surround himself with crack-pots, fanatics, crooks, sadists, starry-eyed fugitives from insane asylums and opportunists who will scramble for power among themselves when the time comes.

"I have always believed," Huss told this writer today, "that the German army can only be beaten on the battlefield by an army even more powerful.

"That still holds true."

Hitler May Crack

"But Hitler is something else again. He believes himself a god or demi-god at least and has visions of a 700-foot column to his memory erected in the main square of Munich. But at the same token, a man with any such dreams is a madman, and when things turn against him, as they will when the United Nations strike in full force, he can and may crack wide open with a blast heard round the world."

Easily the most authentic record yet offered of the Hitler regime and its succession of sins against humanity from the rape of Austria to the German blueprint for Japan's sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, "The Foe We Face" was written by a correspondent who studied Nazism from its shoddy beginnings almost until the moment America was plunged into war.

Huss was the first American to interview Hitler after his rise to power in 1933 and the last correspondent to talk to him before Pearl Harbor. The final interview was at the fuehrer's headquarters on the Russian front last fall, when after accompanying the German armies on battlefield after battlefield, Huss found Hitler on the threshold of what later proved to be disaster.

Hitler Ranted

How Hitler ranted and roared against Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Roosevelt, mocking their liberalism and democracy and predicting the world would remember him when they were long forgotten is ably told. As he left this strange, mystic man, openly committed to win or die in this war, Huss realized he had uncovered a gnawing fear in the fuehrer's heart that nothing but defeat and disgrace is in store for him.

"With a shock," he writes, "I realized that down in his heart is gnawing intuition that the crest of the wave for him has passed. He may have heard that astrologers are saying that the eighth year of his favorable sign in the heavens is the last. It is a worrisome thing, sufficient to keep him awake and in a restless mood for many hours of the night.

"He paces the floor or reads a book, trying to keep down the uneasiness in his mind and in his heart symbolized and personalized ruthlessly and mercilessly by the face of the smiling man he fears, the man who sits in the White House far out across the Atlantic—the man who keeps him awake sometimes until the break of dawn."

Blaming Hitler

Archibald MacLeish's office of facts and figures in Washington yesterday reported monitoring a speech by Marshal Hermann Wilhelm Goering in which it was strongly indicated that German military leaders as well as the civilian population are beginning to blame Hitler for the reverses in Russia.

Squabbles between Goering and Hitler, and between Goering and Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, were anything but rare during Huss' 8½ years in Germany.

The true background of these quarrels, a vicious tapestry of jealousy and lust for power which hangs behind the Wilhelmstrasse, forms one of the most interesting chapters of "The Foe We Face". But above all, the book is Hitler, for the first time, in real life and that poisonous portrait gives enough reasons why he must be beaten.

(International News Service)

EASTON, Pa.—Two packs of cigarettes for the U.S.O. will be part of the admission price to the Interfraternity Ball at Lafayette College this spring. As each couple enters the ballroom, the cigarettes will be turned over to the doorman together with the ticket.

The Interfraternity Council, sponsor of the ball plans to pay for the rental of the ballroom in war bonds.

Mother's Day On Sunday, May 10

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May 1.Gov. Arthur H. James today paid triubute to Pennsylvania's mothers who "are upholding the magnificent traditions of the women who have lived before them in this old commonwealth."

"This year," he stated, "As we again celebrate May 10th, the second Sunday in May, as Mother's Day, we humbly salute the mothers who are carrying on with courage and fortitude.

"Few realize and all too few appreciate the sacrifices of mothers in time of war, but we all know that the mothers have raised a hardy and courageous race of men to answer the challenge of despotism, tyranny, dictatorship and slavery."

It isn't a mere matter of putting in time. If men slow down after eight hours, it is time to change shifts.

Texas, with a production which for 1941 exceeded 10,000,000 pounds, is the chief wool producing state in the Union.

Urges Long Delay In Peace Talks After War Ends

(International News Service)

BOULDER, Colo.—A 10-year delay in a peace conference and settlement after the present war is advocated by Dr. Eduard Lindeman, staff member of Columbia university and the New York School Social Work.

Speaking before the school and university conference sponsored by the Colorado University College of Education, Dr. Lindeman said:

"Too much hatred will block a just settlement if the peace conference is held after the war ends.

He urged the postponement also so that most of the work might be accomplished in restoring people to their homelands, in meeting economic and political difficulties in various natons and in dealing with disease and nutritional problems.

Points to Dangers

"The greatest dangers we shall face after the war are that this country will shirk its duties in establishing peace," Dr. Lindeman continued, "and that victor nations may not care to give up enough sovereignty to establish a just world order."

He also feared the possibility that "the victors may fall out among themselves."

"Establishment of a new League of Nations," he said, will be impossible unless a great armed force is maintained to preserve order."

Foreseeing retention of the capitalistic system, he predicted:

"Capitalists of the future will think first of human needs, next in terms of commodities and money. No individual will have any security unless all have security and the same will hold true of nations."

We'd better listen to Litvinoff. If free lands had needed his warnings and pleadings, we'd all be safe now.

Thousands of enemy agents and sympathizers are working against our country. To leave them at large is to betray our own soldiers.

Immediately after an air raid is a critical time

That's when calls FOR HELP are most important

That's when Air Raid Wardens or other officials must call for ambulances, for doctors, for fire-fighting apparatus.

If the telephone lines are crowded with other calls, the calls which may mean life or death do not get through.

DURING AND FOR AN HOUR AFTER AN AIR RAID, DO NOT USE YOUR TELEPHONE. KEEP TELEPHONE LINES CLEAR FOR EMERGENCY CALLS.

This is vitally important—for the protection of yourself, your family and the whole community.

Chicago Firemen Are Kept On Jump

Hundred Fire Department Vehicles Are In Action At One Time

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, May 1.—Three fires which broke out almost simultaneously in widely separated parts of Chicago and started smaller fires today brought out more than 100 fire department vehicles and 500 firemen, one-third of the department.

A spectacular blaze in a division of the Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing company, which has millions of dollars in war contracts, destroyed two great sheds, each approximately 1,200 feet long, 250 feet wide and 150 feet high.

Engines 15 miles distant answered the 5-11 alarm.

Through all the hub-bub approximately 900 men on the night shift remained at their posts in nearby buildings. Choking at times from the dense clouds of smoke which could be seen for miles, they remained valiantly at their jobs to keep the war work machines humming.

At the request of army officials, Chief John Prendergast of the uniformed police threw a cordon of men around the plant. Twenty-two police squads were summoned. The damage was estimated at only $50,000, but it was pointed out that work of reconstructing the buildings might take several months and so delay war work.

At the same time as the Pullman fire on Chicago's far south side, a fierce blaze broke out in the Majestic Wood Working company's plant on the near north side and shortly sparks were showering down and endangering an entire neighborhood.

SOMETHING WRONG

(International News Service)

LONDON — People living in Ilford (near London) have a grudge against the government.

They figured they were being very patriotic and helping in the war effort when they were dismantling the iron railings around their gardents recently. Had not the government told them that "every pound of metal for salvage saves space in our ships."

But the other day while gazing out of their windows over their fence - less gardens — they were amazed to see workmen putting up new highly ornamental railings all around the local school.

Men Roomers Are Preferred By Landladies

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, Ind. — Landladies prefer males.

That situation is worrying officials in charge of construction of Camp Aterbury, near here. A number of women are required for office work in connection with building the huge cantonment, but the rooming house operators would rather have men.

The chief one seems to be that women in general are more demanding than men. If the landlady has a woman in the house, she feels obligated to keep the roomer's quarters as well as the entire house free from the slightest trace of dust or disarray, because, according to this viewpoint, the feminine roomer would notice anything out of order, while a man probably would not only fail to notice dust or disarray but would not give it a second thought if he did.

Another reason advanced is that women roomers like to wash out their silk hose and underthings frequently, converting the bathroom into a home laundry. Men, according to landladies, are no bother at all. They come and go as they please without causing any interruption in the landlady's household routine.

Miss Helene Edgar In "Little Theatre" Play

New Castle Girl In Lead Role At Westminster "Little Theatre"

Friends of Miss Helene Edgar, of Sheridan avenue, will be pleased to know she carried exceptionally well the leading part of Ellen Creed in the Little Theater production, "Ladies in Retirement", at Westminster college two evenings this week.

This is the third play in which Miss Edgar has taken a major part in the Little Theater playhouse at Westminster college, where she is enrolled.

Miss Edgar, a major in speech, is an honor student. Recently she was elected news editor of The Holcad, and has been tapped for Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalistic fraternity. She was also tapped for the Masquers Dramatic Fraternity.

The New Castleite is corresponding secretary of Chi O'Mega sorority, a member of the Y. W. C. A. council, Outing club and other student organizations.

Miss Edgar is the eldest daughter of Prothonotary and Mrs. J. A. Edgar, 117 East Sheridan avenue.

BRITISH REJECT ANY TRUCE PLAN IN BOMB ATTACKS

ain last night by bringing down 11 of well under 50 German machines used over England.

Defense chiefs were jubilant since the steady drain of even 10 per cent losses to the Germans, it is felt, will seriously affect the Luftwaffe's bombing strategy. Last night's results are likely to cause a lot of thinking in Berlin.

Observers speculated on whether the tremendous improvement of British night fighter planes and ground defenses might be motivating the jitters displayed by Berlin as much as the recent R. A. F. raids on German cities.

Several German raiders carried out reprisal attacks against northeast coast towns, causing some casualties.

(The German radio broadcast a German news agency dispatch reporting that Sunderland, on the northeast English coast, was heavily attacked by the Luftwaffe.)

14 Nazi Plaes Lost

The air ministry announced that 14 German planes had been destroyed by British action during the night and early morning hours. Eleven of the enemy craft were brought down over England while three others were destroyed over Nazi bases in France.

Air circles were jubilant over the costly proportion of German plane losses in the night assaults. They disclosed that the Luftwaffe met such opposition at the outset of one raid that they were forced to abandon their objective and reverted to their now familiar hit and run tactics, dropping bombs indiscriminately over several towns in a wide area.

Worst Nazi Beating

Word received from the continent said that the current aerial duel between Britain and Germany, with the Nazis taking by far the worst beating they have yet been given in the war, was proving "highly unpopular" with the German people. The industrial cities of Rostock and Luebeck have been virtually destroyed by the incessant hammering of the R. A. F. and residents forced to flee to safer havens.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail quoted the Journal of Geneva as saying it was "semi-officially stated in Berlin that Germany will call off its bombing of English towns if the R. A. F. will change its methods of bombing German cities."

Little Chance

There appears to be little likelihood that the British will give any attention whatsoever to such a Nazi suggestion. Only yesterday Deputy Prime Minister Richard Clement Attlee on the floor of commons turned down a suggestion that Britain arrange a tacit agreement with Germany to refrain from bombing historic objectives. He said every Hitler promise previously had proven worthless and there was little chance he would abide by such an agreement.

The British fighter command carried out seven major offensives against the Germans yesterday, the air ministry said. The R. A. F. struck on a front of 400 miles reaching from Brittany in France to Flushing, Holland. Six German fighters were destroyed while four British craft were reported missing.

Many squadrons of the R. A. F. engaged in the large-scale cross-channel attacks which included the Morlaix airdrome and railway yards at Abbeville.

The increased British aerial attacks were accompanied by a warning from an American spokesman who said in a German-language broadcast beamed on the Reich that United States craft soon would participate in the assaults on Germany.

Draftees With Identical Names Prove Headache

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA — The United States Army is headed for a dose of double trouble—much to the relief of a local draft board which has had nothing but headaches ever since two James Aloysius Brennans registered.

The draft board will, by its own admission, be glad to see the selectees, one 23 and the other 35, off to camp. They registered on the same day. They were called up for their physical examination the same day. Both were accepted and will be inducted the same day. There's even the possibility they may serve in the same outfit.

"But that's the Army's business—and headache," said Harry Praeger, chairman of the draft board.

Complications Ensue

He explained that the board's filing system hasn't been the same since the two men registered. Half the time when board members thought they were talking about one James A. Brennan, they found later, much to their dismay, that it was the other fellow.

When the men were given their physicals, the sergeant called out: "James Aloysius Brennan."

Both stood up, so he repeated the name, thinking one of the pair had made a mistake. It took a bit of arguing, it was recalled, to convince the sergeant everything was on the up and up.

"And that's the way it's been all the time," lamented Praeger. Then he wistfully added:

"They'll be off our hands soon—I hope."

SMALL FIRES

Firemen were called to the apartment of Ralph Campbell, Highland and Moody avenues, when an incinerator became clogged and caused smoke to fill the building. No damage desulted.

At 1:30 o'clock this morning, a false alarm was sounded from Box 73.

Plan Check-Up On U. S. Prices

O. P. A. To Embark Upon Another Experiment Is Word From Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The Office of Price Administration on Thursday shook up its consumer division, disclosed that it would hire "a great many professional checkers" and embark on an experiment "never yet tried by any government agency either in war or peace."

The experiment, according to Dexter Keezer, consumer division official, will be an attempt to get "information" on the price program from the public as well as trying to educate the public to it. He declined to elaborate on the nature of the information that would be sought.

Keezer was asked how the government was going to get the information and whether the OPA would start its own public poll.

"We will use all sorts of devices," Keezer declared.

"How many checkers will you have?" he was asked.

"I won't estimate," Keezer replied.

Later Robert Sessions, head of the consumer division, declared that for enforcement the consumer division would place "a great deal of reliance on highly trained technicians to be employed by the Bureau of Labor Statistics."

"There will be a very great many," he said. "There will be enough to do the job."

Session declared that he did not want housewives to act as police women on prices, declaring that there should be no attempt by women to engage in what he said was "busy work".

Mercer County Carriers Meet

(Special To The News)

MERCER, May 1.—The annual meeting of the Mercer County Rural Letter Carrier association and auxiliary was held last night at Mt. Pleasant Grange hall, when new officers of both groups were elected.

James McCullough, Greenville was elected president of the association, R. H. Reynolds, Grove City, was elected vice president and John Kerr, Sandy Lake, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Walter Foutz, Hadley, was elected president of the auxiliary; Mrs. Harry Wharton, Stoneboro, vice president, and Mrs. E. E. Wright, Sandy Lake, secretary-treasurer.

Ladies of Mt. Pleasant grange served a chicken dinner to the 45 persons who attended.

The main speaker was Dr. Leslie Mountford, pastor of the Second U. P. church, Mercer.

Other entertainment included musical and tap dancing numbers by the Heckathorn trio.

But the conscientious objector would try to keep out of the medical department, too, if he knew the enemy would shoot at it.

Can't somebody make bifocals so you can read without sticking your chin up like a chicken with the gapes?

Britain Devises New Plan To Meet Labor Shortages

Mobile Labor Squads Are Now Ready To Be Sent At Short Notice To Plants Where They Are Needed

By LOWELL BENNETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON—Mobile labor squads—workers who are loaned from temporary under-employed factories to others in urgent need of technical help—are today being introduced in all of Britain's main industrial centers.

In a number of big plants engaged on munition-making there are now small "shock" forces ready to be transferred anywhere in the British Isles at a moment's notice.

Factories upon which the government makes a sudden call for increased output are able to "borrow" highly skilled technicians from other regions and other plants where their need is less urgent.

By this plan a not considerable amount of time has been saved and output increased. In some instances there has been a sudden call for special shells or shell-finishing tools and mobile squads were concentrated in a plant to hurry-up production.

Follow - Up to Other Plans

The plan is a natural follow-up to three other ideas instituted during the summer of 1940 when the British Army was in such urgent need of re-equipment. All three plans have proved highly successful.

The Ministry of Supply has its NIMS (National Industrial Mobile Squads) of crack engineers, who, travelling from one new factory to another, get production started in the shortest possible time.

There is also the EMTAC (Emergency Machine Tool Armaments Corps) who go to factories where machine tools are idle and train new comers to carry out their work.

Dockers, too, are transferred from port to port when, for reasons of security, ships carrying war materials are diverted from their original destination.

"Mobility," say the Ministry of Labor, "Is the essence of successful war production."

Ten Men Depart For U. S. Marines

Staff Sergeant John L. Dean of the United States Marine recruiting station here, today announced that the following men have enlisted and have been sent to Pittsburgh:

Ralph H. Lanigan, R. F. D. No. 2, New Castle; George Leroy Jones, 506 Croton avenue; William Shuliff, Jr.; Merle E. Tanner, 113 Line avenue, Ellwood City; Robert R. Stougher, R. F. D. No. 1, Lowellville, O.; George Ship, 1158 County Line street; Pasquale Russo, 106 Ashland avenue; Michael G. Haravan, 16 Charles street; Harry L. Recklaw, R. F. D. No. 2, Sharon; Karl K. Walter, 325 Mercer street.

In behalf of the V. F. W. Post 315 of New Castle, gifts were presented by Frank Sargent.

District Meeting In Mercer Church

Miss Oscie Sanders Is Principal Speaker; Delegates To Assembly Named

"These Things We Do" was the subject chosen by Miss Oscie Sanders, of Tennesee, for the inspirational address delivered Thursday afternoon at the meeting held by the Grove City district, Woman's Society of Christian Service, in the Mercer Methodist church.

Rev. J. L. Buck is pastor of the host church. Mrs. Verne Anderson of that church served as a most gracious hostess for the day, with lunch being served in the church at noon. About 300 women attended the meeting.

This was an educational meeting, with instructions being given in methods of conducting Women's Society of Christian Service meetings and study periods. Reports of committees were heard, also.

One new officer, Mrs. D. E. McCreary, of New Castle, was appointed as secretary of student and United States service work.

Mrs. Carl S. Hart, of New Wilmington, district president, was appointed to attend the national and international assembly at Columbus, O., May 18-22. Mrs. Carl Madden, of Greenville, vice president of Christian social and lo l church activities, was named alternate.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service is advocating a minute of prayer at six or seven o'clock each evening for everyone, and announcement of this was made at the meeting. The noontide prayer was given by Rev. Thompson, of the district.

The next spring meeting of Grove City district is to be held in Greenville Methodist church, the invitation having been extended by Mrs. Taft of that city.

Four Men Enlist In Army Thursday

Four more men enlisted in the United States army on Thursday through the New Castle recruiting station. Sergeant John T. Bilpuch announced.

They are:

Tony William Brayer, 137 Regent street, Campbell, O. (parachutist).

Julius Goldberg, 40 East Howard street, Girard, O.

Edward Okupski, 2104 Sixth avenue, Beaver Falls.

James D. Morgan, R. F. D. No. 1, Worthington, Pa.

Announcement was also made that men 18 and 19 years of age may now have their choice of branch of service.

Men between 20 and 45 will be enlisted in the branch of service in which they are best qualified.

ILLNESS HITS PRODUCTION

(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal.—There was approximately 32 times as much lost time arising from illness or injury in United States industry in 1941 as there was from strikes, declares Dr. A. Victor Nasatir, director of the Division of Industrial Hygiene of the Los Angeles City Health department.

"Accidents cause only one-tenth as much time loss as does industrial illness. The two combined cause only about one-twelfth or one-fifteenth the lost time due to non-occupational injury or illness," he said.

VICTIM OF INGENUITY

(International News Service)

MATHER FIELD, Cal.—As an inventor, a Mather Field Staff Sergeant thought he was tops. Now he isn't quite so sure. He rigged up a device on his radio to give electric shocks to "Unauthorized personnel" who might use it. So far he has been the only one to "get the works." He has been shocked by the gadget four times.

Fleming Music Store 'Open House' Tonight

Music Store, Opened Nine Years Ago, Moves To New Location

This evening from 7 o'clock until 10 the Fleming Music Store will hold open house at its new location, 19 North Mill street, which the public is cordially invited to attend.

In 1933, the Fleming Music Store first opened for business in the room further north on Mill street which it has just vacated. At that time its stock consisted mainly of band instruments, sheet music, and teacher material, and "had probably not more than a dozen records on the shelves", according to Mrs. Robert Fleming, proprietor of the store. "For at that time records were not popular as they are today. Now phonograph records are a very important part of a music store's stock."

During the nine years that Mrs. Fleming has been in business, she has increased her inventory so that now it is the basis of a complete musical store, which handle mail-order business with out-of-town trade as well as with the New Castle's musical trade. Pianos and organs, which were previously displayed in a separate showroom, are now accommodated with the regular stock at the new location.

DENTAL THEORY EXPLODED

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — Belief that flouride in drinking water caused decay of teeth has been exploded, it was reported recently by the International Association of Dental Research following a survey of 21 cities, including Colorado Springs.

Dr. H. T. Dean, a dental surgeon in the U. S. Uublic Health Service, declared that in some places, like Colorado Springs where the water is exteremely "soft" but the flouride content is high, the dental decay was less than in other cities which had "hard" water with little flouride in it.

Poverty doesn't make people ashamed unless they think other people superior because they have money.

Would Provide Aid In Filling Questionnaire

Registrants who need help in filling out the occupational questionnaires received from their Selective Service Board can go to their employer, their labor union, their veterans' post, or their local U. S. Employment Office, it was announced today by Raymond J. Latchaw, manager of the New Castle office of the U. S. Employment Service.

The U. S. Employment Service is cooperating with the Selective Service System in making this occupational survey, which when complete will provide the government with a detailed inventory of the nation's manpower, Mr. Latchaw explained. The first group to receive the questionnaire are those between the ages of 20 and 44 who registered on February 16, totaling about 642,000 in Pennsylvania. It is estimated that about 6,000 registrants in Lawrence county will receive questionnaires at this time.

Primary purpose of the survey is to avoid induction into the military forces of men more urgently needed in war production, and to speed war production by promoting transfer of workers from non-essential occupations to war industry. It is therefore of the greatest importance, Manager Latchaw emphasized, that questionnaires be fully and accurately filled out.

Correct Answers Vital

To help registrants do this, special arrangements have been made with local employers, labor unions, and veterans' organizations. Assistance is also available from Selective Service Advisory Boards, and at any office of the U. S. Employment Service.

For the convenience of persons wishing aid in making out their questionnaires, a schedule indicating time and places where assistance will be offered will be published in the near future.

Manager Latchaw declared that accurate and complete answers to the questions on these forms will be a vital part of the victory program. He also urged registrants to fill out and return their questionnaires promptly, since they must be returned to the Selective Service Board within ten days.

A hick town is a place where your friends still stick around after your money gives out.

Moving Huge Pile Of Iron Ore From Here To Struthers

Part Of Task Of Clearing Site Of Old Steel Plant For New Industry

A gigantic mound of iron ore, piled up for many years at the site of the old Carnegie Steel Co.'s plant here is being moved to the Struthers Iron & Steel Co's blast furnace at Struthers to make way for new construction at the local site.

The pile originally contained about 200,000 tons of ore and it was bought by the Struthers furnace about a year-and-a-half ago, after the furnaces were dismantled.

With the decision to clear the site, recently acquired by the Greater New Castle Association and turned over to the federal government, the ore had to be moved at once, so the Struthers pile was established.

Morehead Homestead Is Again Occupied

Recently renovated for its reoccupation, the Morehead homestead at 122 East street, built by the late Hugh H. Morehead in 1842, a year after his marriage to Miss Rachel Falls, is again the home of his youngest daughter, Miss Lizzie D. Morehead. She moved back home yesterday.

Exactly a century old, the homestead stands on its original site. It has been vacant for the past ten years, during which time Miss Morehead made her home with her brother, the late Thomas F. Morehead, of Moody avenue. She continued to live at the Moody avenue residence, which was recently sold to Wyatt R. Campbell, until Thursday.

Miss Morehead's home on East street, as the result of extensive interior remodeling, has been converted into two apartments, with the one on the ground floor designed for the use of its owner.

Wild West shooting is jocularly called "lead poisoning."

Lead poisoning is a chief industrial hazard to health.

Exposure to lead is seen in 150 different industries.

The making of white and red lead is hazardous.

Storage batteries contain lead and often cause poisoning.

Painting and acetylene welding involve this risk.

Outside of industry there is little lead poisoning.

Some drinking vessels contain lead alloys.

Imbibing from them may cause a type of lead poisoning.

Weakness, "wristdrop" and "blue gums are symptoms.

Inhaling lead dust is the most dangerous practice.

Lead poisoning has been prevented by frequent hand washing.

BUSINESS INCREASES

PITTSBURGH, May 1.—Business in the Pittsburgh district advanced slightly for the week ended April 18, despite a moderate decrease in electric power production and retail purchases, the bureau of business research, University of Pittsburgh reported today.

The bureau's seasonally adjusted index rose from 147.8 per cent of the 1923-25 average the preceding week to 148.3.

No change was reported in the number of furnaces in blast and the steel ingot rate held at near capacity. Bituminous coal production increased and the number of freight car loadings reached new high levels for the year.

The signs of Standard Oil are useful. The headlines make people forget about balled-up production

Britain Will Use Armed Guards In Drive Against Black Market Racketeers

By FREDERICK SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON—In an effort to combat the stealing of entire truck loads of vital food from all over Britain, the government is planning to use armed guards to foil the black market racketeers.

The new plan which is expected to be announced shortly, will place guards at over 600 roadside transport cafes and their adjoining truck parks.

One of the black market's favorite methods of hi-jacking food has been to wait until the weary truck driver stops at a wayside cafe for food and then drive off with the truck which is found days later at some deserted country spot, minus the food.

Guards Deemed Essential

Guards at cafe truck parks are considered essential because it has been proved that the food thieves shadow food trucks from the docks to the cafes, or by mixing with the truck drivers at the roadside stops, discover the nature of the load which is carried.

Decoy lorries are expected to be used by the police in an effort to end the traitorous activities of the racketeers who are stealing thousands of dollars worth of food, which is then sold at a huge profit.

The food racketeers are expertly organized and have spies to inform them of the routes and departure times of valuable consignments.

Empty houses, located in the suburbs are being used as storage depots, where the food is kept in good condition until it is marketed.

Companies Will Cooperate

Lord Leathers, Minister of War Transport, has enlisted the aid of all the big transport companies in his campaign to smash the food thieves.

In addition to the armed guards at cafes and the decoy lorries, another government move is expected to foil the thieves.

It is proposed to detail a guard to travel with trucks which also carry trailer loads. He will be on guard in the trailer from point to point throughout the truck's entire journey.

It is estimated that 42 per cent of black market thieving occurs on British main trunk roads.

"RETONGA IS GRAND" DECLARES MRS. SKEEN

Could Hardly Remember A Meal That Didn't Make Her Suffer From Indigestion. Promptly Relieved By Retonga.

MRS. STELLA SKEEN

"Retonga was so fine for me I wish I could tell everyone who suffers as I did about this grand medicine," declares Mrs. Stella Skeen, well known resident of 616½ Stockton St., Charleston, in a strong public endorsement of this famous medicine.

"I can hardly remember a meal for several years that didn't sour in my stomach and bring on a miserable feeling from indigestion and gas," stated Mrs. Skeen. "There usually was so much gas in my stomach that when I lay down I felt like I could not get my breath. This made me so nervous I seldom got enough sleep, and mornings I felt simply terrible. For years I had to take some sort of cathartic practically every day, and I felt worn out to the point of exhaustion.

"Before I had taken a half bottle of Retonga I felt lots of relief. That distress from indigestion and gas formation let up, my nerves steadied down, and I began to sleep restfully all night. I don't need those harsh cathartics now, and I feel so much stronger and better there is no comparison. Retonga is simply grand."

When you are suffering every day from the need of a gastric tonic and Vitamin B-1 deficiency what you need is a medicine that will bring prompt relief, and that is what thousands of well known men and women say Retonga did for them. Retonga may be obtained at Eckerd's and Pay Less Drug Store. —Adv.

Questions And Answers On Sugar Rationing

The following is a list of questions and answers on consumer sugar rationing, prepared especially to deal with: Why sugar must be rationed, how to use sugar books, and how to register.)

SUGAR RATIONING—Section I—How To Register.

Q. What days can we register?

A. You should register on May 4, 5, 6, or 7.

Q. Where do we register?

A. At your nearest grammar school.

Q. Who is entitled to a sugar rationing book?

A. Every man, woman and child in the United States—including babies.

Q. Will every person in the United States have to register?

A. No, one member of every family registers for the others.

Q. What about people who live in boarding houses?

A. They will have to register for themselves and then turn their rationing books over to the people who operate the establishments they live in.

Q. And if a person should have more than six pounds per person—what happens then?

A. Any person—or any household having more than six pounds of sugar per person at the time of registering, will not be given a sugar rationing book until all sugar is completely used up.

Q. But how can a person buy any sugar without a ration book?

A. A person who is overstocked with sugar should register at the regular time—May 4, 5, 6, or 7—but that person will not get a sugar ration book until her entire supply of sugar is used up—then—and only then,—can she get a book from her local rationing board.

Q. What kind of questions will be asked when we register?

A. Well—you'll have to give your name—age—height—weight—color of eyes and hair, and so on—for every member of the family.

Section II—How To Use Ration Books

(Cooperate in every way you can—and remember, sugar rationing gives you a chance to share in the fight for victory).

Q. How do I use my ration book—or books, as the case may be?

A. You tear out the first stamp in your book in the presence of your grocer—this allows you to buy one pound of sugar during the first rationing period.

Q. What if I want another pound of sugar in a day or so, I'll just bring my book in and tear out another stamp—is that right?

A. No—this first stamp in your book is good for one pound of sugar at any store—anytime during the first sugar-ration period—but the second stamp in your book has no value until the second sugar-ration period.

Q. What if I should run out of sugar before the first sugar-ration period is over?

A. If you should need more sugar during this first sugar rationing period—just bring in one of the other books issued to another member of your family (your husband or son or daughter) and tear out the first stamp in the presence of your grocer. And if you need a third pound, bring in the third book.

Q. Do I have to buy more sugar just because I have the first stamps even though I don't need more sugar?

A. No. Please don't feel that you have to buy more sugar just because you have a stamp or two left over. If everybody bought all the sugar they're entitled to—just to use up all their stamps—it really would defeat the whole purpose of rationing. Buy all you need but don't buy more than you need.

Q. Can I tear out a stamp from the book and send it along to the store?

A. No. You must bring your ration book to the store and tear the stamp out of your book in the presence of your grocer. Loose stamps can not be used. If people were permitted to tear out stamps—and use them—there would be too much chance of having them circulate among people almost like money—and there would be no control over how much sugar one family could get.

SECTION III—WHY SUGAR MUST BE RATIONED

Q. Where do we get our sugar?

A. Before the war—we used to get two-thirds of our sugar shipped in from the Philippines and Hawaii, and also from Cuba and Puerto Rico.

Q. Why before the war?

A. Because now we get no sugar from the Philippines, and our shipments from Hawaii are mighty uncertain.

Q. What about shipments from Cuba and Puerto Rico; we still get sugar from those countries, don't we?

A. Yes, we do, but not as much as we got before the war.

Q. Why?

A. Because we have a serious shipping shortage, actually we have been faced with these two choices, whether our ships should be used to transport sugar or whether they should be used to transport guns, tanks and planes to our men on the fighting fronts all over the world.

Q. Would some people rather have more sugar and not send fighting equipment to our men?

A. No real American would sacrifice sending munitions to our fighting men just to have more sugar on their table, but some people didn't believe there really was a sugar shortage; they argued that even if all our sugar imports were cut off, we could grow enough sugar right here in this country to fulfill our own needs.

Q. Can we?

A. No, and certainly not overnight. First, it takes more than a year for new sugar crops to mature so that they can be harvested for sugar; also, there is the question of land, labor, necessary refining plants and a lot of other things. What's more, you must remember that our fighting men require twice as much sugar as they did in civilian life. Sugar gives them quick energy, and furthermore, we must supply sugar to our friends who are helping us defeat the Japs and Nazis.

Q. Is sugar rationing a good thing?

A. It will give every man, woman and child an opportunity to get an equal amount of sugar, rich or poor, no one will be able to buy more than his share under the rationing plan.

Q. Can women of America devise ways to get along on less sugar?

A. Yes. By using some good old common sense they can prepare meals that menfolks will enjoy as much as ever, without wasting sugar. Rationing offers everyone a chance to help share in this fight, so follow the regulations, save all you can and then we won't miss winning the final victory.

(To ration's the fashion for victory.)

German Weekly Held At Post Office In Philadelphia

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, May 1—Postmaster Joseph F. Gallagher announced today that the latest edition of the Philadelphia Herold, German-American weekly, is being held at the postoffice pending further orders from Washington.

Gallagher acted after the Postmaster General received a letter from Attorney General Francis Biddle, who declared: "This publication has engaged over a period of time in a sustained and systematic attack on certain of the nation's activities directly related to the war effort."

William B. Graf, Sr., of Horsham, publisher of the Herold, said he had not been notified of the government's action and would make no statement. His printing shop was the scene of an attempted bombing in June, 1940.

INJURES HAND

Joe Knight, aged 16 years, of R. F. D. No. 5, employed as a helper by Chapman's Dairy, suffered a laceration of the right hand when his hand was caught in the door of a delivery truck late Thursday morning. He was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Stalin Exhorts Russian Forces To Defeat Nazis

"Make Year Of 1942 The Year Of Germany's Final Defeat," He Urges

SAYS GERMAN ARMY IS NOW WEAKENED

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, May 1.—Premier Josef Stalin today exhorted the Russian armies to fight with the objective of making 1942 "the year of Germany's final defeat".

"Our aims are clear," Stalin declared in a May Day order of the day to the Soviet armed forces and civilian population.

"We want to free our Soviet homeland from the German Fascist beasts, and in order to achieve that aim we must destroy the German invaders to the last man, unless they lay down their arms.

"We are fighting for our country, for justice and freedom and we do not aim at seizing foreign territory or conquering foreign peoples."

German Army Weaker

The German army, Stalin said, is "undoubtedly weaker than it was ten months ago," when it launched its attack on Russia. On the other hand, Russia is "undoubtedly stronger than before the war," he declared. He paid tribute to the United States and Great Britain whom, he said, were "giving the U. S. S. R. ever greater war aid."

"The war has brought great disillusionment to the German people," the premier asserted. "Millions of people have been sacrificed and millions are suffering from hunger and poverty.

"The German people are becoming increasingly conscious of defeat."

Stalin singled out Adolf Hitler, German Propaganda Minister Paul Josef Goebbels, Reichsmarshal Herman Goering, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler for special attacks, branding them as "hyenas of German bankers, putting their own interests above all others."

Red army advances through the winter months, he said, had resulted in the destruction of "enormous quantities of the enemy's manpower," and forced the Germans to call reserves into action who were not scheduled to be used until spring.

"The atrocities committed by the Fascist aggressors on our civil population and prisoners of war have inspired our men," Stalin said. "They have started to hate the German aggressor.

"They have learned that it is impossible to fight an enemy without learning to hate him wholeheartedly."

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

BUSSES DELAYED

Thursday afternoon about four o'clock the bus returning from Mahoningtown was held up for nearly 10 minutes at the Mahoning avenue crossing. Having crossed the track, a tripper and two regular busses were met on the avenue. There was an accumulation of passengers from the mills, and soon the bus was packed with people as tight as sardines.

COULDN'T MAIL COOKIES

This week, a lady came into the post office at Mahoningtown, and thanked one of the clerks, for having put the notice in the ward "News" column of the restrictions made by the Postmaster General, at Washington, D. C., regarding the size and weight of packages of parcels, mailable overseas, also forbidding the mailing of perishables overseas. This lady was about to bake a lot of nice cookies to send to her son, in the U. S. Service in Iceland.

SOMEWHAT IMPROVED

Ed. McBride, superintendent at Mahoningtown post office, who has been quite ill at his home, is showing some improvement. Mr. McBride has been off duty since the end of March.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Mrs. Anna Adamo, of 216 South Cedar street, has recovered sufficiently to return to her home from the New Castle hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. William Norris, of 206 First street, have left for a trip which will include Baltimore and other points in the East.

Miss Margaret Russo, of West Madison avenue, has left for Georgia, where she will visit with her brother, Private Albert Russo.

Mrs. Anna Sharufa, of 516 North Liberty stret, who has been undergoing treatment at the New Castle hospital, has returned to her home.

Mrs. Martha J. Thomas, of Akron, O., has arrived at her son's home, Ben Sense, R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, where she expects to make her home.

Mrs. Anna Cherol and Mrs. Bertha Jones, of Youngstown, O., have returned after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Gus Louis, of R. D. 7, Mahoningtown.

Senior Hi-Y And Guests Enjoy Dinner

Y. M. C. A. Organization Gives Army Style Bean Dinner, Thursday Night

There was a splendid attendance at the Senior Ne-Ca-Hi-Y dinner meeting, at the Y. M. C. A., Thursday evening. The event took the form of an army style bean dinner. High school juniors and sophomores interested in the Hi-Y movement attended as special guests.

After the singing of "America" to the accompaniment of Bob Johnson, the invocation was given by Rev. Sidney Bliss, of the Central Christian Church.

At the conclusion of the plenteous "eats," president Charles Book gave a welcome to those present. He then introduced Lewis Southern, treasurer, who acted very efficiently as toastmaster of the evening.

The toastmaster called upon the following guests who made short addresses, which were appreciated by the boys. Bill "Butch" Winter, "Y" physical director; William E. Lehto, high school teacher, and supervisor of June graduating class; Dario Baptiste, boys secretary; Jimmy Patterson, who gave a chalk talk; Bob Fraser, Hi-Y advisor, and Arthur J. Rees, of "The News".

Bart Richards, of "The News" was introduced, and gave an interesting and instructive address, which was enthusiastically received by the boys.

After the meeting a number of the boys took a swim in the "Y" pool.

News Briefs From City Hall

Police place red "calling cards" daily on autos which either have been parked too long for a nickel or else operators have failed to "pay the meter". When drivers of cars on which tags are placed do not appear within 48 hours in traffic court, a notice is sent to the owner of the car and then if no reply is received, warrants are served. Today Mrs. Minnie McKibben, policewoman, reported that only one of every three who fails to appear either to plead guilty or ask exemption in traffic court is a New Castle resident.

Chief of Police Willis G. McMullen today issued a warning to motorists to use caution in driving cars in Highland avenue. "Rails are being removed. A speeding auto is apt to be wrecked with considerable damage and possibly loss of life. In order to prevent speeding I have dispatched cruiser cars to the Highland avenue district" he said. Yesterday two speeders paid fines here. They gave the names of Frederick Dubrock and Jack Kirkwood. There is no leniency extended to anyone caught speeding.

Miss Myra Nixon, clerk, city health bureau, today reported there is not one case of contagious illness listed here, which is a very good health record.

Police are searching for Harry Shull, 18, attired in C. C. C. clothing who has been missing from his home, 710 Etna street, since April 27.

A blue and white bicycle was abandoned by a colored man in Atlantic avenue last night, according to police.

ELLENVILLE, N. Y.—Pupils of the high school here will find some balm in the war that will otherwise deprive them of some privileges. The Board of Education, acknowledging the need for pupils' spare time on farms, has abolished that bane of schoolgoing—homework. It was admitted, however, that the action was in keeping with a trend recently encouraged by the State Department of Education.

Use of tires with treads worn to the fabric has been banned in Panama as a safety measure, according to the department of commerce.

Peanut Gets 1-A Priority Rating In Louisiana

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, La.—The lowly peanut has been given a 1-A priority rating in Louisiana.

A warning to "go easy on the goobers" was issued to students of Louisiana State University recently in a war-time oil conservation move announced by G. J. Durbin, state AAA administrator.

"Heretofore, we've used coconut and palm oils," Durbin said, "but the war has cut off our supply from the Dutch East Indies, and we must turn to domestic products."

Once the program is under way, Durban predicted that Americans will be using peanut oils in such everyday tasks as baking a cake, taking a bath, or varnishing a floor.

By refining peanut oil, a fairly good grade of motor fuel may be extracted, Durbin said, adding that he did not believe the time will ever come when this will be practical.

Act Quickly On Price Control Warns Baruch

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 1.—Bernard M. Baruch, chairman of the first World War industries board and "father" of the price-control method of curbing inflation, today believes there must be a stiff increase in taxes and quick adoption of President Roosevelt's 7-point anti-inflation program if the United States is to win the war and the peace.

In a talk with this correspondent, Baruch said he felt the President's program was a step in the right direction but he emphasized the necessity of imposing heavy taxation without delay to drain off the excess purchasing power in the hands of the American people.

Unless this exoess purchasing power—estimated as likely to reach $10,000,000,000 in the coming year—is drained off, and strict control maintained over prices, rents and wages, Baruch fears the anti-inflation program will fail to work and the nation will face a disastrous increase in the cost of living.

Poppy Day Sale Here Saturday

American Legion Auxiliary Asks Public To Wear Tribute To War Dead

ELLWOOD CITY, May 1.—Poppies by the hundreds blossomed forth at the American Legion Home today as the women of the American Legion Auxiliary prepared the little memorial flowers for distribution Saturday.

Boxes in which the poppies came from Aspinwall hospital, where they were made by disabled war veterans, were opened by a corps of workers under the leadership of Mrs. Hugh Holliday, poppy chairman. The flowers were sorted, counted and arranged in bunches ready for the women who will offer them on the streets Saturday to be worn in honor of the men who have given their lives for America.

"Each poppy has individuality, being individually made by some veteran too badly disabled to do other work," Mrs. Holliday explained. "Into each flower goes the sentiment of these men for the comrades they left in France. Each symbolizes beautifully the supreme sacrifice which has again become necessary to maintain America's freedom and democracy.

"Wearing a poppy is the way each individual can show that he remembers the men who have died in the nation's defense and honors their patriotic spirit. The poppy is more than ever a badge of patriotism this year when young Americans again are offering their life to keep our country secure. We are hoping that everyone in the city will show his patriotism by having a poppy on his lapel on Saturday."

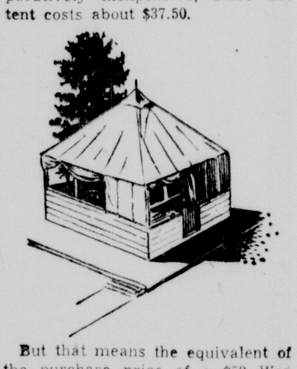
What You Buy With

WAR BONDS

Tents have been essential equipment of armies since Biblical days. U. S. Troops may need more than a million of them. They are comparatively inexpensive, since one tent costs about $37.50.



But that means the equivalent of the purchase price of a $50 War Savings Bond. Our army likes the pyramidal tent which provides space for five cots comfortably. Set on modern tent floors, water repellent, they are equipped with small stoves. You'll rest better tonight if you know our troops are sheltered. Buy U. S. War Bonds every pay day.

Reports War Has Doubled The Number Of Women In Prisons Throughout Britain

(International News Service)

LONDON—"There are twice as many women in Britian's prisons today as ever before."

Miss Lillian Barker, only woman prison commissioner in this country, startled a number of people with that statement at a London luncheon today.

She summed up the causes for such an increase in female crimes under two headings

"It's among the young people where women have failed," she said. "It's the hardest job in the world to make young girls understand their responsibility towards their country, their towns and their homes."

War was the second factor. Social disorders and home complications, she said, had been greatly aggravated by the blitz and by war conditions in general.

All Types of Women

"Our work has increased enormously since the war," she said. "I am becoming most alarmed now to find the prisons so full. And the women who are going there are not all poor girls.

"Young people today just don't seem to want to take responsibility for anything. They just want to live their lives and go their own way irrespective of the needs of their country.

"We women must have been very lax in our education of young people to have allowed them to grow up without ever learning to take responsibility. And the blame does not fall only on teachers in the school-rooms."

What could be expected, she asked, of children who had lived through the blitz and who had lost so great a part of their education by evacuations and more evacuations?

"What can be expected of children who have been forced to sleep night after night in public air-raid shelters that before the war were a disgrace?

"It is impossible to maintain 100 per cent activity for a negative purpose. People need the fillip of something more definite than the Atlantic Charter and some promise of improved conditions for the majority."

Bread is being rationed in Turkey and the loaf has been gradually reduced in weight, the department of commerce reports.

All of Europe was thrilled when Columbus reported finding gold and nude women. Both were scarce then.

RATION CARDS "PIED"

No worse mess can happen in a newspaper or printing office than to "pi" a page of type. It consists of dropping the page of type on the floor and jumbling up the type. You can imagine.

In the basement of the court house and dumped.

In putting the cards up they had not been securely tied in bundles and the result is a helter skelter pile of cards, all numbered in serial. Now all that has to be done is for some one to take a couple of days off and get them back into their proper order.

To add to the confusion the room is partially filled with sugar rationing cards. Mention ration to Andy Dodds just now and he breaks out in a rash.

Hitler, Mussolini And Jap Envoy To Have Meeting Soon

(International News Service)

LONDON, May 1.—Amid reports of growing tension in Italy, accentuated by a critical food shortage, it was said in Axis report that a meeting would take place shortly between Adolf Hitler, Premier Benito Mussolini and the Japanese ambassador to Berlin.

The Japanese radio broadcast the report of an impending meeting between the Axis chieftains, quoting a dispatch from the Berlin correspondent of the Tokyo newspaper Hochi Shimbun. The correspondent gave as his authority "well-informed" sources in the German capital.

Masinori Oshima, Nipponese ambassador to Berlin, will in all probability participate in the talks with Hitler and Il Duce, Hochi's correspondent said.

The report of the meeting attracted widespread attention in view of current difficulties in Italy and new efforts by the Germans to send out peace feelers through three neutral countries.

PRESIDENT SIGNS TWO CONGRESS BILLS

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 1—President Roosevelt Thursday signed the Foreign Agents Registration bill, shifting administration of the act from the state to the justice department and requiring the labeling of political propaganda disseminated in this country.

The bill was amended at the president's request to provide a "limited exemption" for representatives of the United Nations.

The president also approved a bill extending the permitted flying time of pilots on commercial airlines from 85 to 100 hours a month.

The conscientious objector banks on his conviction that somebody else will save his country for him.

Restrictions On Tires Tightened

Recapped Tires Must Be Used Instead Of New Ones In Many Cases

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 1 — Price Administrator Leon Henderson on Thursday issued an order under which no new or recapped tires will be rationed after June 1 "to anyone who abuses those he now has in use."

At the same time, he issued a regulation effective today, banning rationing of new tires to so-called list A vehicles. List A comprises so-called essential services such as doctors. Henderson said that no list A user will be given a new casing if a recapped tire will serve.

Then Henderson issued the ban against the abuse of tires. He said that standards would be set up soon to guide local rationing boards in deciding when a tire has been abused or neglected.

"Neither new nor recapped casings will be released to anyone who in the opinion of the local rationing board has not given proper care to the tires to be replaced," Henderson said. "After June 1 anyone who presents an inspector's report that a tire can not be made fit for recapping or retreading will be called upon to show that it did not become unuseable through abuse or neglect."

One Foot Off But He Seeks To Aid Army

(International News Service)

DETROIT, May 1 — "I can fight like h——and would like to help win the war. The foot is off above the ankle but I get around swell on a wooden leg."

Such were the partial contents of a letter received by Captain Charles Popp today from an 18-year-old rejected Marine Corps applicant, who said he would like to be among the first to be accepted if physically disabled persons are ever accepted for active service.

The writer of the letter was Russell D. McClean, of the village of Lake in Clare county.

"A fellow with that kind of spirit is the kind who will prove a valuable asset to any service for such work as air raid spotter or gunner," Popp declared in saying that he would unhesitatingly recommend McClean if physical restrictions are lifted.

Average Army Air Corps Pilot Is 22 Years Old

(International News Service)

MERCED, Cal. —A composite picture of all pilots making news in the war theaters was drawn up recently to show Americans what the average Army pilot is like.

At the Merced Army Air Base, the pilot was found to be 22 years and nine months old. He is five feet 11 inches tall and weighs 161 pounds.

The picture shows that the youth was very active in high school sports with an average of two letters. He spent two to three years in college but he didn't have too much time for athletics.

He probably never flew a plane before enlisting in the Army Air Corps but was interested in flying.

Frat Pledges Stage Parade

Annual Animal Parade Is Witnessed In New Wilmington Thursday Night

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, May 1.—For half an hour Thursday evening, New Wilmington was turned into a zoo, and the town's startled residents had to rub their eyes to make sure they hadn't been set down in some African jungle.

The occasion was the annual animal parade held by pledges of Sigma Phi Epsilon, one of Westminster college's three fraternities. The parade is one of the features of "Hell Week," held from time immemorial to impress upon pledges the dignity and solemnity of the fraternity.

Horses and ponies predominated in the meandering menagerie, but the outstanding exhibit was probably a large sheep led by Bill McLhinney, star Titan basketball player. It would perhaps be more accurate to say that the sheep led McLhinney, because the freshman cager found himself being dragged all over the college campus. Another basketball star, Charley Goldblum, and Eddie Hamilton, varsity footballer, were official escorts to a fierce-countenanced goat.

Other features of the parade were a calf which sat complacently in a wheelbarrow; a fish at the end of a fishing-pole; and an assortment of ducks, chickens, and other fowl. Followed by a large crowd of students and other spectators, the parade of pets started at the Sig Ep house, and wandered over half the town. One tragic note, however, marred the proceedings. Westminster's traditional favorite, the skunk was absent. It is hoped that this omission will be rectified in the future.

Earlier in the evening, the spectators were treated to an old-fashioned wagon ride, in which pledges of Kappa Phi Lambda pulled the fraternity's members about the campus in a large wagon, which threatened to get out of control at times. Stopping at Thompson House, upperclass girl's dormitory, the pledges were forced to kneel and kowtow to the coeds, who promptly responded by pouring a pail of water upon the unfortunate freshmen.

The defense motif predominated in this year's "Hell Week" activities. Pledges of both Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Sigma Phi fraternities wore signs reading "Air-Raid Wardens", and carried buckets with 10 pounds of sand in them. Sig Ep initiates were forced to fall flat on their faces whenever one of their superiors shouted "air raid". This caused some confusion when the signal was given during chapel service.

Traditional regulations, such as wearing clothes backwards, rolling up pant-legs, and being allowed to cross Market street only at certain places, were also forced upon the pledges.

Britain Wages War On 'Black Market' Food Racketeers

Authorities May Enforce Death Penalty To Break Gangsters' Grip On Food Supplies

By JOSEPH THOMAS
(International News Service)

LONDON.—A fierce war is today being waged within Great Britain between food racketeers and the authorities responsible for feeding the population.

Many of the gangsters operating the food "Black Market" have already been accounted for, but their organizations have such a firm hold on retailers and wholesalers that it is being suggested the death penalty may have to be enforced to break it down.

Some of the rackets unfolded by J. Edgar Hoover's G-Men in the United States are mere "chicken feed" to the operations of Britain's black market gangsters.

Wily Racketeers

Intricate traps laid by the authorities rarely catch the racketeer. It is always a slip of the woman's tongue that leads to sensational discoveries of Britain's missing food supplies.

The biggest-ever meat conspiracy was recently uncovered as the result of a woman's complaint against her butcher. She told her local food control officer that her neighbor could get as much meat as she wanted from her butcher, but at the shop where she was registered she could not even secure her regular rations.

The shop patronized by her neighbor was watched by officers, and one evening a truck drew up and unloaded a number of frozen carcasses into the shop. During that week only home-killed meat was being distributed by the Food Ministry so an arrest was made.

Solen Meat

Under cross-examination the butcher revealed the name of the organization supplying him with extra meat. It was then discovered that this organization had recently stolen 2,153 carcasses of lamb and beef from a refrigerator ship docked at Liverpool.

Other racketeers handle vast stocks of American Lease-Lend canned goods. Besides securing big hauls from the holds of the ships they also "buy" up complete stocks from shop-keepers at a price above the government control figure.

These foods are then resold to fashionable restaurants and clubs for three times their value.

Rationing of food has converted a vast number of Britain's shopkeepers into small-time racketeers. They have developed what is commonly known as a UTC business. That means "under the counter." When they receive stocks of some food such as salmon, jam, cheese, ham, apples and oranges, they put them out of sight under the counter. These are sold to special customers who are willing to pay extra money for them.

Father Tried To Collect For His 'Extra' Children

(International News Service)

STAMFORD, Conn., —As the crowd roared with laughter, a father of six children stormed out of the Internal Revenue Office still insisting that the government owed him $800.

It all happened during the rush to beat the deadline for income tax payments. The man, who had a foreign accent, approached Theodore Isaacs, one of the agents, and said he had earned $1,600 on WPA work during 1941.

Since he was allowed $400 for each dependent child, he figured out that his exemptions totalled $2,400, hence the government owed him $800.

Isaacs tried to explain that the dependency allowance was only credit. But the father was not easily convinced. He appealed to other agents, but got the same answer.

Then he went home, quite dejected.

The egg weighed just under four ounces and measured seven and three-quarters inches around the long way and six and a half inches the short way.

Appeals For Care In Preventing Fires In Forests

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, —Fires in the forests of Pennsylvania don't just happen. People cause them, George H. Wirt, chief forest fire warden of the Department of Forests and Waters, says that only two out of every thousand forest fires in Pennsylvania are caused by lightning. Railroads, campers, brush burners, hunters, fishermen, and transients cause practically all of the fires. The number of incendiary fires is not more than nine per cent of the total.

Forest products so essential to national defense in wartime and to our posterity in peacetime, cannot be produced when our forests are destroyed by fire.

Secretary G. Albert Stewart has made a direct appeal to the presidents of all railroads operating in Pennsylvania, requesting them to have a thorough inspection made of their locomotives so that the throwing out of sparks may be reduced to a minimum. He also called attention to the fact that rights-of-way should be cleared of all inflammable debris and that safety strips be constructed adjacent to the tracks, in such places as are in danger of forest fires.

Secretary Stewart has made a similar appeal to the sportsmen of Pennsylvania. Forests as well as fields are necessary for game. Fish life is best in streams running through forests untouched by fire. Hunters and fishermen can best protect their interests by joining in the protection of forests from fire.

Sportsmen can aid by severely condemning practices liable to cause forest fires and insisting upon prosecution of those responsible.

Pennsylvania is facing a serious situation as the protection organization is losing many men to the armed forces of the nation and to defense industries. Pennsylvania may suffer the most disastrous forest fire experience in the history of the department, unless every individual lends a helping hand.

UNIQUE MORALE DRIVE

(International News Service)

BOISE, Ida. — A one-man campaign to bolster the morale of United States Senators was underway by Franklin Girard, Idaho state forester.

"Be not disturbed by the flood of inspired letters pouring into your office daily. Most of your constituents, like the writer, can put all they know about the war effort on a postcard. Go ahead and do your level best—that's good enough for me."

The word "girl" appears but once in the Bible, this being in the Book of Joel 3:3

Many Londoners Still Sleeping In Subway Stations

LONDON—In spite of the fact that London has not been visited by the Luftwaffe for nearly twelve months, an average of 4,000 people still spend their nights in the capital's subway stations.

This time last year some 170,000 persons sheltered in the subway stations regularly every night, but today not more than twenty regular shelterers are found at any one point.

Most of those who continue to occupy the shelters have lost their homes, or had the upper floors of their homes damaged. Others are elderly people who do not like the prospect of seeking shelter in the middle of the night.

Refreshments are still served and the arrangements for accommodating the full numbers of sleepers are maintained at all of the shelters.

BETTER BREEDING HELPS DAIRY HERD PRODUCTION

Given good care and adequate feed, a cow is limited in her production by her inherited ability. Although a dairyman cannot change the capacity of cows already in production, he can improve the future members of his herd by breeding—better breeding.

In 1940 production records were obtained on 61,139 cows in dairy herd improvement associations. The average production of these cows was 345.4 pounds of butterfat, with an average return of $118 above feed cost.

On the other hand, the average production of all cows in the state for the same year was 200 pounds butterfat. Such cows gave a return of only $47 above feed cost. Thus, we see a difference of $71 in favor of the dairy herd improvement association cow over the average cow of the state.

When the 400-pound butterfat producers are considered, it is found that after they paid for their feed $144 remained to pay for labor, housing, interest, depreciation, and other item of cost.

Faced with these facts and heeding the call for more dairy products, the dairyman who knows how to feed and manage to get the best out of his cows realizes that, in addition, he must have cows bred to produce. He, therefore, uses sires that will improve the ability of the daughters over that of their dams.

Constructive breeding practices are known, and they are being used economically and profitably by many dairymen.

TAKE CARE OF HEATING SYSTEM IN THE SUMMER

All types of heating systems in farmhouses require some care during the summer if expensive repairs are to be avoided.

The farmhouse hot-water heating system should not be drained of old water and refilled with new, according to engineers of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

They say that during the heating season much of the air in water is driven off so that old water now in the system has little corrosive action on pipes. Fresh water, however, contains air that may couse considerable corrision.

On the other hand, it is suggested that now is the time to drain and flush the boiler of steam-heating systems and completely refill boiler, pipes and radiators with water, if they are tight. To do this, vents at the highest points in the system are opened to permit escape of air. Keeping boiler, pipes, and radiator filled with water will reduce corrosion, and draining in fall will flush out the entire system.

When filling the system with water, it is a good idea to examine the air valves on radiators to detect leaks, or walls and floors may get wet. Some types of air valves and the radiator shut-off valves with poor packing may leak so that only the boiler and main pipes will be safe to fill.

Summer deterioration of smoke pipes can be reduced by thorough cleaning, and otherwise preventing moisture from accumulating. Smoke pipes of furnaces seldom rust out, but instead are destroyed by corrosion from the acid formed when moisture collects in soot in cool pipes.

When the furnace is in a damp basement, it may be advisable to store the pipe in the attic or other dry place. Wrapping with newspaper or painting both inside and outside of pipe with asphaltum also will protect from corrision, according to the engineers.

If it is necessary to put the pipe on the furnace after cleaning, doors, dampers and openings in the furnace and pipe should be left wide open to assure free air circulation. Pipe of small heating stoves and the stoves themselves should receive similar care.

REMOVE INSECT HARBORS TO MAKE CONTROL EASIER

Cultivated crops often are severely damaged by insects which have over-wintered in the protection of crop refuse left in the garden.

Weeds, thick grass, woody growth, leaves, or other coarse litter adjacent to cultivated land are ideal places for hibernation. In the spring before cultivtaed crops are started these places afford an abundance of suitable vegetation on which to feed. Migration to the cultivated crops often is not observed, and as a result plants may be destroyed before insect control measures are started.

Insect control under the most favorable conditions is not easy. It can be made less difficult if the numbers of hibernating forms can be reduced sufficiently so that hordes of them will not be ready to destroy the plants at the first attack.

The best way to do this is to make the places where they usually hibernate unsuitable for them. If this was not not done last fall, much good work can be done now before the insects become active again. Commence to fight the insects now.

Clean up and compost or burn all weeds, coarse, grass, and wild shrubby wood growth adjacent to the garden or along fences and stone walls. Gather and remove waste materials, such as old wooden containers, woods, and trash that collected near the garden during the year.

This work is especially needed where unimproved land in cities and towns is to be used for victory gardens. Clean up these winter hiding places before it is too late.

RAISE LAWN MOWER TO SAVE NEEDED MATERIAL

Homeowners with lawns have an opportunity to make a significant contribution in the present emergency. This contribution can be made simply by raising the lawn mower as high as it will go and leaving it there for the rest of the season. A wrench, a few minutes, and the job is done.

Simply loosen the nuts that hold the roller, let the roller drop as far as it will go, tighten the nuts, and the contribution is made.

This practice will aid in several ways.

First, grass seed will be saved. Each spring there are tons and tons of grass seed used on lawns that are thin and poor, in an effort to thicken the turf. The grass seeds which are used in lawn mixtures are needed in agriculture and there is a shortage. Higher cutting will develop deeper roots and a thicker turf which will need less reseeding. Consequently, there will be fewer weeds.

Second, fertilizer will be saved. High cutting of lawns promotes deep rooting of the turf. Deep roots can obtain fertilizer materials which have leached deeply into the soil. Therefore, less fertilizer will be required.

Third, steel will be saved. High cutting makes the mower push more easily. The mower will last longer because it will not be cutting twigs, stone, glass, and other debris and consequently it will need sharpening less often.

In addition to saving vital war materials, seed, fertilizer, and steel, there will be other advantages from high cutting:

1. The turf will become denser.
2. There will be fewer weeds.
3. The grass will be less affected by drought.
4. Less water will be required.
5. The turf will stand more abuse.

For the duration, raise the mower to the limit and keep it there to save vital war materials and to achieve greater satisfaction. High cutting is as much in style as cuffless trousers and tireless automobiles.

WORKING MAN NEEDS SUBSTANTIAL LUNCHES

Although a man must carry every bite of his noon meal from home, his lunch can and should be complete and satisfying, says Miss Ann Quinn, home economics extension representative Lawrence County.

First of all the lunch should be planned in relation to the other meals of the day. Like every other normal adult, the hard working man needs at least the following foods during the day: 2 to 3 cups of milk; 1 or more servings of vitamin C rich food; 1 or more servings of leafy, green or yellow vegetables; 2 servings of other vegetables and fruits; 1 egg or at least 3 a week; 1 serving of lean meat, poultry, or fish; whole grain bread and cereals at least the time; butter at every meal and some fat in cooking; some sweets.

A man who does hard physical work needs a generous supply of energy goods, foods that supply a lot of calories. To get these, he may eat larger portions of all foods served to him.

Cardinal rules for lunch preparation are: wrap foods neatly; strive for variety in every lunch; rule out very moist foods and extra frills. Also see that the lunch has a third or more of the day's food and that it is appetizing and easy to eat.

The basis of most carried lunches are sandwiches, so it is a good plan to work up a list of changes both of filling and of bread. Most sandwiches are better if you use plenty of table fat when you prepare them.

Reports Value Of U. S. O. After Camp Visits

"If there is one phase of camp life that every soldier boy is agreed on, it seems to be the usefulness and value of the United Service Organizations." That is the opinion of Dr. G. S. Bennett, vice chairman of the local U. S. O., who has just returned from a visit to a number of camps in the east.

"Wherever I went," he added, "I made it a point to inquire personally of as many soldiers as possible their ideas on the work that the U. S. O. is doing. Without a single exception I found whole-hearted praise for the work the U. S. O. is doing for men in the army."

Over 400 U. S. O. units have already been established, not only in this country but also in the far flung corners of the world where our soldiers have been sent. Near the principal camps, fine U. S. O. buildings have been erected on standard plans. In some localities large homes have been rented and adapted to the job, and in far outposts, mobile units have been developed to serve the needs of the men in the armed forces.

Each U. S. O. unit is under the charge of some representative of one of the six agencies embraced in the United Service Organizations. He may be a Protestant, a Catholic or a Jew, but the matter of creed or sect has no bearing whatsoever on the way the unit is run. "In one unit where the director happened to be a Jew," Dr. Bennett remarked, "I saw a group of soldiers entering a U. S. O. building for a Sunday evening service, with a Catholic priest and a Protestant minister at the head, marching to the tune of 'Onward Christian Soldiers'. Incidents like this are evidence not only of the patronage of the units by the men, but also of the breaking down of old religious intolerances which have been widely prevalent."

Dr. Bennett's trip has provided him with wide knowledge of the U. S. O. work, and his enthusiasm is an inspiration to the local committee which is now preparing for the annual U. S. O. drive to start May 11.

Britain Completes Plans To Control Food In Areas Facing Threat Of Invasion

By HOWARD BERRY
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON.—Plans for the control and distribution of food supplies in areas likely to be threatened in the event of Britain being invaded are today complete.

For some months past, food control executives have been working in collaboration with wholesalers and retailers in coastal areas to perfect the details in a plan of action to be put into immediate operation in an emergency. This plan will ensure food supplies for hundreds of small villages, as well as large towns.

The working of the program was explained to International News Service by an official of the British Ministry of Food.

"When there is a call to battle station is every food shop and catering establishment in or near the threatened area will close," the official said.

"They will remain closed long enough for shopkeepers to make full note of existing stocks and send figures into the local food offices.

"In small villages that are some distance away from a food office the lists will go to voluntary food officers, who will be persons of standing and repute in the locality as, for instance, the rector or schoolmaster, or a member of the Woman's Voluntary Service.

"The lists of stocks submitted to them and to the Food Offices will form the basis on which the emergency rationing of each area will be decided.

"A very large number of voluntary food officers has been appointed throughout the country, and general instructions on the steps to be taken in certian emergencies have been issued to them.

"They have now completed the necessary preparations."

Navy Plane In Rescue At Sea

(International News Service)

LEWES, Del., May 1.—Two unnamed navy airmen adrift on a life raft off Rehoboth Beach today owe their lives to the crew of a navy amphibian plane.

While several hundred persons watched from the boardwalk, the navy plane landed on the rough sea and picked up the pilot and observer of a navy scouting plane which was forced down by engine trouble. Though the airmen were unscathed, their plane was lost. They were flown to the naval base at Cape May.

Pet Show Today At Union School

Students of the Union township schools are presenting an animal pet show this afternoon and evening from 3:30 to 8 o'clock on the athletic field back of Union high school on Scotland Lane.

The show, open to the public, is being sponsored by the Library club, Fern Cloak, advisor. Boys of the Activities club and gym team are patrolling the field and girls of the Library club have prepared a refreshment stand.

Prize winners will be awarded red, white and blue ribbons for first, second and third places.

Pets on display include dogs, cats, roosters, goats and a number of other animals, etc., which could be listed in the pet category.

INDIAN GIRL SCOUTS

There are 19 Girl Scout troops in the United States all of whose members are American Indians.

It is shameful not to use 4-F men who wish to serve. If one can hold down a job in civil life, he can serve behind the lines and release a fighter.

Louisville Agog; It's Derby Time

Expect 100,000 For 68th Running; Drop Names Into Entry Box Today

By JACK MAHON
(I. N. S. Sorts Writer)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1.—The lame, the halt and the blind guessers of this fair village argued, and argued, and argued some more today as the trainers of some 17 of the best regarded thoroughbreds in the nation prepared to drop the names of their hopefuls into the entry box for the 68th running of this state's most famous advertisement—the Kentucky Derby.

Without any further ado, and a lot of nonsensical experting, please be advised that the following are the horses which are expected to be nominated.

They are: Alsab, Sun Again, Requested, Apache, Devil Diver, With Regards, Shut Out, Dogpatch, Valdina Orphan, Fair Call, Boot and Spur, First Fiddle, Hollywood, Sweep Swinger, Fairy Manah, Sir War and First Prize.

All but three of them are certain starters. Trainer Ben Jones of Calumet Farm said today he would nominate Sun Again but would not make a decision on starting the colt until tomorrow morning.

Three Doubtfuls

The other pair of doubtfuls were Ellwood Johnston's First Prize and the Milky Way Farm's Dogpatch. The former probably will be entered but will not get to the starting gate, while the latter will go only if there is a fast track.

As the horsemen gathered around the secretary's office a rumor spread that the Calumet stable had refused to release its contract rider, Wendell Eads, to ride the Mill River stable's Fair Call in the run for the roses.

This announcement was interpreted as an indication that Sun Again, the Calumet's only derby hope might go postward in the big race. Despite all the talk in the barns and on the far side, as they call the backstretch in this neck of the woods, there was no favorite or sign of a favorite.

The closest approach to same was the Greentree entry of Devil Diver and Shut Out which was selected in a poll of newspaper and training geniuses. Latest reports had the first entry to run since 1934 at 3 to 1 with old, beaten and bedraggled Alsab the second choice at 4 to 1.

Requested, winner of the Wood Memorial, was an equally bewildering 5 to 1 third choice. The rest of the field ranged from 6 to 1 upward.

Louisville, May 1.—This is a picture of the way in which the vast crowds disport themselves (and what it costs them) when they gather on the first Saturday of every May for the historic Kentucky Derby in Louisville.

Something like 100,000 persons are here now or coming for the 68th renewal tomorrow. They will bulge the hotels, pack the restaurants, renew acquaintance over a certain muraled bar (and many others) and come out of the haze along about Sunday midnight, or later. And the funny part of it is that they will go home happy—perhaps with next year's reservations in their pockets.

It's Top Gathering

Calculated on past derby years every out-of-town guest will spend $30 to $60 for three nights in the hotels, the latter requiring reservations, paid in advance, for three-night occupancy. They will spend from 75 cents to $1 apiece for mint juleps, and amounts ranging from 35 cents to $2 per meal, besides train fare or automobile costs.

It will be the nation's greatest gathering, perhaps, until the war is over.

It will cost the fans an estimated $3,000,000 for a three-day fling.

But they will have seen the Kentucky Derby—the 68th.

"Schoolboy" Rowe Sold To Dodgers

Unexpected Transaction Announced Late Thursday; Was Great In '34

(International News Service)

DETROIT, May 1.—Lynwood "Schoolboy" Rowe, pitcher for the Detroit Tigers, has been sold to the Brooklyn Dodgers, Jack Zeller, general manager of the Tigers announced Thursday.

Price of the sale was not announced. For Rowe to be sold out of the American League, however, would mean that all American League clubs had passed him up at waiver price of $7500.

He has won one game this season for the Tigers.

His greatest accomplishment came in 1934 when he won 16 straight games to tie the major league record of "Smoky Joe" Wood, Bob Grove and Walter Johnson.

Rowe lost both of his starts in the 1940 world series.

Tigers-Croton Battle Tonight

Two of the better City Baseball league teams will be appraised tonight on Croton field.

The "practice"tiff pairs the West Side Tigers and Croton A. C. The contest, which should give more than an inkling relative to the potentialities of the two diamond combos.

Managers Morris and Gilbert, strategists of the Tigers, refused to issue as much as a hint regarding their mound selection, but indicated that they have a few surprises.

Triple Wind-Up In Ring Monday

Fans To See Bell Vs. Tabor, Baxter Vs. Jackson, Cordy Vs. Phillips

GARDNER, CAREY, McEWEN ON CARD

There'll be three bouts of main battle caliber when the eight-bout pugilistic carnival is staged in The Arena Monday night. While many regret the inability " Frankie Genaro to oppose Chris Tabor, they realize that when the Jefferson A. C. mated Tommy Bell with Chris a bout of equal ability was unfurled.

Both have defeated Russell Baxter, which is sufficient to show that the fans will see an exciting main bout.

The other two bouts of main batcaliber are:

Russell Baxter, city, vs. Henry Jackson, Steubenville, 160. Both are good boxers, but of the pair Baxter holds the edge in hitting power.

Frankie Cordy, Niles, vs. Ted Phillips, Pittsburgh, 135. This should prove an exciting scrap.

Joey Perrone, Steubenville, a brother of Paul, the pro, heavyweight, will box Dick Roach, 118, Niles, who has furnished lots of action in bouts here in the past. They are bantamweight.

Steve Nichy, Pittsburgh, a brother of the pro., Billy Nichy, will box Johnny Davidson, Youngstown, at 160.

Three New Castle preliminary boys will also appear. They are:

Johnny Gardner vs. Percy Brown, Steubenville, 140.

Pete Carey vs. Frankie Muche, Niles, 130.

Bobby McEwen vs. Sammy Felice, Youngstown, 118.

With industrial conditions having become better, it is likely that the air-cooled Arena will be crowded when the bell rings for the amateur bouts.

The local boys are training in the old Dime gymnasium. Boxers residing in other towns are preparing in their own gymnasium.

City League Meets On Thursday Night

League officials and representatives of teams furthered plans for the opening of the City Baseball league during Thursday night's meeting in the Y. M. C. A.

Opening day games will be played on Sunday afternoon, May 10.

Anthony Colaluca of Croton was named to draw the schedule which will be presented during next Wednesday's meeting in the Y. M. C. A.

Cleveland's rookie pitcher, Ray Poat, was the star pitcher at Illinois when Manager Lou Boudreau was the college shortstop.

Prepare for National Meet

Laughing gaily, Marilyn Sahner, one of the mermaids who will defend her titles in the coming National A. A. SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Friday sports scramble:-

Lack of experience has retarded Paul Minner's baseball career. The tall New Wilmington high flash, undoubtedly one of the greatest athletes produced in the college town, has been optioned to Elizabethton of the Appalachian league by Knoxville of the Southern association. Before the close of the season, the southpaw pitcher will likely be back in the S. A.

Canton, Ohio, reportedly is deeply interested in securing Ray Smith, the Ellwood City social star shortstop. And Al Orlando, the seventh warder, is still holding down the shortstop slot for the Butler Yankees . . . Bob Lee, New Castle high's superman, wears cheaters off the athletic fields.

Joe Wilk, another Mahoningtowner, is playing the outfield on Pitt university's varsity baseball aggregation. Last season, he was a slabman. . . . If you want to get a glimpse of "Bill" Paradise and Russ Currie, two of the swellest trackmen in the history of New Castle, hike to Taggart stadium next Tuesday afternoon when the "Hurricane" battles Butler in a duel affair.

Alsab will show his hoofs to the remaining hay burners in the Derby classic. Requested will be charging past the finish line second and Apache will come puffing down the stretch third. It took me about a minute and a half to emerge with the much awaited selections. My system of picking turf winners is both simple and quite entertaining. Here's how it works:

All you need is a hat or a young lady's hands (preferred, by far) and strips of paper upon which are scribbled names of the nags in the race. Form paper wads out of the strips and place 'em in the soft, lovely hands of the gal. Make sure you help to shake 'em. The shaking process continues—use your own discretion. Then pick 'em out, one, two, three. P. S. The system is O. K. but I wouldn't advise you to break open Davey's bank or steal Aunt Hattie's jewelry and chunk it down.

It's almost 90 and here's one of the items a sports guy gets: Indiana's 1942 football prospects are for a strong backfield but a weak line. Wonder how things shape up for '48? . . . Who cares department: J. V. Crone, who claims to have done more than any man in the U. S. for the rainy afternoon checker players, has retired from active play after competing for 50 years. Maybe he needs a rest.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Norwood Elwell of Lancaster, Penn State sprint and broad jump star, has been selected as the outstanding Nittany Lion athlete for 1942. He is the only athlete in the 65-year history of the IC4-A competition to twice score a triple victory. In 1940 and 1941, he won the 100, 220 and broad jump. In indoor competition he has unofficially sped 50 yards in five seconds, which if official, would prove a new world's record. He participated in the Millrose A. C. games in New York and tied the world's record for the 60 yard dash, negotiating the distance in 6.1. The colored lad has scored double victories in the National Collegiates for the past two years by capturing both the 100 and 200 yard events.

California defeated W & J at the net, 6-3, at Washington and Pitt won its third victory in four starts by beating Allegheny, 6-3, at Pittsburgh.

Louisville is a crowded city today and will be more jammed tomorrow when the Derby is staged. Not only horse players but everybody who likes a horse is interested in the event. Everybody is trying to unravel the situation and get on the right horse. Picking a winner is akin to finding a needle in a haystack. Personally we like Requested with Hell Diver, second, but don't bet the family's sugar ration card on the prediction.

Twilight Ball Is Possibility In Big Leagues

Major League Moguls Await Final Answer On Night Baseball Situation

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 1.—The possibility of twilight baseball in the major leagues as a replacement for night games that might fall victim to dim-outs along the eastern seaboard has not yet received official consideration.

This was disclosed today by Ford Frick, president of the National League, who hopes that baseball clubs will be given a chance to make a thorough test of arclights before the night games are banned entirely.

The army has ordered a dim-out of complete blackout of lights that silhouette ships at sea but whether the illumination from baseball park arclights would fall into that category has not been determined definitely.

"We are hoping that before the authorities give us a definite ban on the night games they will give us a chance, in tests, to see what happens when the lights are turned on," said Frick.

There is nothing in baseball law, he explained, which would prevent playing of scheduled night games during twilight hours, but, in order to be completed before darkness they would have to be started no later than six o'clock. The practical obstacle would be given the fan time enough to eat and get out to the park after his day's work.

Pending proposals for an additional hour of daylight saving time, if made effective, would greatly enhance the possibility of twilight games, Frick said.

WEST SIDE A. C. MEETS TONIGHT

West Side A. C., of the City-County Independent Baseball league, will stage an important practice tonight.

At the conclusion, uniforms will be distributed. Members of the squad include:

Paul Kearns, "Ducky" Guinaugh, Joe Annarella, "Moody" DeLeone, Don Kerr, Wayne Carpenter, Bob Fee, "Sid" Melichar, George Schaas, "Bill" Hannon, Oscar Hannon, Tom Hannon, George Williams, Holland Phillips and Wallace Smith.

FRIENDSHIP TEAM WINS

Friendship Street All-Stars defeated the Neal Street Tigers, 12-9, yesterday. Degilio was the heavy sticker for the winners while Litrenta and Russo spearheaded the attack for the losers.

Shenango Football Champions Honored

County Class B Kings Heaped With Praise During Banquet Thursday

Lawrence county's sports spotlight shone upon Shenango township high school Thursday night.

In the East New Castle institution, more than 50 persons assembled to honor the Lawrence County 1942 Class B football champions and to pay homage to the basketball squad.

The banquet, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association, was strictly of championship calibre.

The fete had a distinct patriotic background. At the head of the tables, arranged in a "V", the flag stood majestically. Candles were red, white and blue. Another "v" stuck out from above squares of candy at each place.

The dinner, meat loaf, mashed potatoes, corn, salad, rolls, coffee, ice cream and candy, was easy to take.

Edwin Beatty, who toastmastered in a manner befitting a professional, first complimented the young men for their achievement and then introduced Coach Kerr Thompson, of Slippery Rock State Teachers college.

Praises Group

The popular mentor showered the athletes with praise and mentioned the numerous benefits derived in the athletic world. "Cooperation, friendships, sportsmanship and confidence are some of the benefits of the game," Thompson said.

Charles A. Landolf, New Castle News sports writer, was the next speaker. Briefly, he reviewed the Class B football situation and pointed out that Shenango, in winning the title, accomplished a feat that has eluded its predecessors for close to a decade. He lauded the squads and closed by reminding the group of the sacrifices expected of every man, woman, boy and girl toward winning the war.

Andy Semansky and Mike Stolitca, two of the most popular athletes in the history of the school, thanked the coaches and teammates for the fine cooperation extended and wished future teams success. Edward Nahas, the school's new coach, spared no adjectives in commending the squads. He expressed gratitude for the spirit and cooperation shown. He then awarded letters.

Edwin Canan, a member of the faculty, briefly acclaimed the football squad and congratulated the basketball team for the courage displayed.

At the conclusion, the group enjoyed two films.

Coach Nahas presented letters to the following boys:

Basketball

Andy Semansky, Frank Adamczyk, Johny Buly, Walt Fruitt, Dave McCreary, Billy Tanner, "Web" Gill, Bob Kalajainen, and Mgr. "Chuck" Terpilewski.

Football

Mike Stolitca, Andy Semansky, Nick Hordig, Stanley Majeski, John Mohrbacker, Reese Thomas, Frank Adamczyk, Walter Fruitt, Pete Moran, Anthony Staph, Bob Walters, Bob Kalajainen, "Chuck" Stitt, Andy Kitzko, Ralph Hiler, Edgar Perdue, Lloyd Overmoyer and Manager Albert Duda.

The cooking and serving committees included:

Mrs. John Tanner, Mrs. Thomas Sweet, Mrs. Harold Klingensmith, Mrs. Harry Pettitt, Mrs. Emerson McGuire, Mrs. George Cochran, Mrs. Lorrin Gray, Wilma Booher, Dot Donley, Florence Badger, Vera Mae Tanner, Edith Fulvi and Mary Louise Williams.

Miss Mary Aiken was pianist and Sam McCullough led in group singing.

McCullough asked the blessing.

Camilli Pacing Dodgers' Surge

Sparkplugs Champs To Sixth Win In Row; Indians Roll Up 11th Straight

PHILLY HOME RUNS DUNK PIRATES, 6-3

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 1.—Most valuable player in the National league last season, Dolph Camilli still is playing that part for the Brooklyn Dodgers as they belt their way through the west seeking a second straight pennant.

As the Dodgers went into action against the second place Pittsburgh Pirates today, the champions were four games in front after sweeping three in a row with the Cincinnati Reds to increase their winning string to six straight for a total of 14 wins in 17 starts. The sparkplug of their current surge is Camilli, the well-known invalid.

He missed a series due to illness immediately preceding the Dodgers' take-off for their swing through the out-lying provinces, but you can't detect from his current hitting that he so recently was fettered by that severe cold.

Has Six Homers

He increased his home run total for the season to six yesterday when he belted a pair for a grand total of four in the three games against the Reds. He hit one Tuesday, one in the ninth Wednesday to tie the score and enable the Dodgers to go on to an extra inning win, then added one for practice and another in the ninth with two on yesterday to win the game, 11 to 8.

Meantime, the Cleveland Indians continued to clock through their 11th straight victory to maintain their three-game lead in the American. The Indians got scattered nine-hit pitching from Vernon Kennedy to beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 1.

The Dodgers have their lead sewed up at least through the Pirate series, regardless of what may happen at Pittsburgh.

The Pirates helped to bring about this situation by losing yesterday to the Philadelphia Phillies, 6 to 3, to drop four games behind the winning Dodgers. The Phillies took the game with a home run blast that included round-trippers by Warren, Etten, Northey and Litwhiler.

The Boston Braves swept their three-game series with the Chicago Cubs, 3 to 2, by virtue of home runs poled out yesterday by Lew Gremp and Ernie Lombardi.

The New York Giants continued to struggle by bowing to the St. Louis Cardinals, 7 to 3.

The New York Yankees climbed over the Detroit Tigers and back into second place in the American league with a 3 to 0 win over the St. Louis Browns behind the four-hit pitching of Ernie Bonham, who scored his second shutout of the season.

The Tigers lost to the Boston Red Sox, as Heber Newsome pitched a six-hitter for his third straight win, 8 to 3.

The Chicago White Sox losing streak was stretched to seven games by the Washington Senators, 1 to 0, with Early Wynn getting the nod over the veteran Ted Lyons in a mound battle.

"FITZ" STRIVES FOR FOURTH WIN IN DERBY CLASSIC

Trainer James "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons will be after his fourth Kentucky Derby Saturday. His candidate this year is Apache. If he accomplishes the victory he will tie the record of four victories held by H. J. "Derby Dick" Thompson who trained Col. E. R. Bradley's four winners.

BRADLEY CAN'T COP 5TH DERBY

(International News Service)

With Bless Me definitely out of the derby following a leg injury at Keeneland (Ky.) two weeks ago, Col. E. R. Bradley, colorful turfman now in his 80's, will not get to try for his fifth derby victory. He holds the record of four victories—with Behave Yourself in 1921, Bubbling Over in 1926, Burgoo King in 1932, and Broker's Tip in 1933.

The colonel lost his best recent chance to make it five when his Bimelech ran second to Gallahadion in 1940.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE MEETING TONIGHT

County Softball league will hold an important meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A., Rocco Viggiano announced.

Representatives of various teams and officers are asked to be present.

DOLF ON TOP

NEW YORK, May 1—Dolf Camilli, the National League's most valuable player in 1941, is proving that the gents who picked him knew what they were doing. The Brooklyn Dodger first sacker has already blasted a half dozen homers. F. McCormick, of Cincy, is at the heels of the Dodger ace with five similar swats. Litwhiler, of the Phils, comes next with four.

NAVY OFFICERS

URBANA, Ill., May 1—George (Potsy) Clark and John P. Sabo, famed old time University of Illinois football players, are lieutenant-commanders in the navy physical training program and stationed at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

CASE STILL TOPS

WASHINGTON, May 1—George Case, the modern "Ty" Cobb insofar as base stealing goes, continues to dominate the big leagues in this department. The speedy Washington Senator ace has already pilfered seven sacks.

WILL BE COSTLY

NEW YORK, May 1—Should night basball be banned in New York, the decree will be a $200,000 casualty to the "big stem." This is the estimated take in from nocturnal battles yearly.

POLICY PASSE NOW

Last year the Dodgers were campaigning to get all visiting clubs to stop in Brooklyn, instead of in New York, during their visits to Flatbush. However, Manager Leo Durocher has rented an apartment in Manhattan.

FAIR OR FOUL

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 1.—If night baseball and other nocturnal sports undergo the "no go" sign, what will be the outcome?

Offhand, I should say that major league baseball is no more exempt than a big blazing sign in New York's Times Square.

New York's commissioner of police, Louis Valentine, hints that all night sports outdoors probably are out for the duration, and this means also the proposed Joe Louis heavyweight championship defense against Billy Conn or Bob Pastor. The fight racket can get around that situation simply by moving this major extravaganza somewhere inland or by staging it here in the afternoon.

Baseball can hold its games in the afternoon, as it did for so long before Larry MacPhail introduced the night game at Cincinnati as a forerunner to the wholesale adoption of night games all over.

At the moment, however, everything is strictly up in the air as to what is going to happen. Commissioner Valentine, who is charged with handling the blackouts here, seems convinced that night sports outdoors must go, but army and navy officials are holding their fire.

All of the baseball people perfunctorily accepted what may come in advance. If blackouts are ordered they will simply shift their schedules into the afternoon.

Promoter Mike Jacobs likewise is prepared to do whatever he may have to do with his midsummer promotions.

Before sports definitely are called off without further recourse there is a possibility that a test will be made to determine just how much of a lighted background the ball parks may afford to enemy raiders.

The whole purpose of all this is to prevent submarines and warships from using a lighted New York skyline as a backdrop for blasts against U. S. ships. Baseball and boxing can't have any arguments against the findings.

QUICK LEARNER

PHILADELPHIA—Harry McQuillen poled three homers for a total of nine runs in his first five games with the Pennsylvania baseball team. Prior to this season the sophomore first baseman had never hit anything except a soft ball.

DAD HELPS HIM

Larry MacPhail, Sr., is helping Larry MacPhail, Jr., get started as general manager at Toronto. The father sold his son Pitcher Tom Drake, through Montreal, a Brooklyn farm.

HAYES YOUNGEST

Jackie Hayes is the youngest football coach in the navy's athletic program. Hayes was head coach at Rockhurst college after starring at Notre Dame.

NEEDS SEASONING

Max Surkont, 19-year-old fast ball pitcher of the Cards, will have another season in the minors at Rochester.

BOSTON TAX DELINQUENTS

(International News Service)

BOSTON—The city has yet to collect $450,000 in taxes on approximately 2,000 real estate properties for 1940, the current City Record shows. The list, however, is the smallest to be advertised in recent years. But the city isn't worried, because many of the tax delinquents are expected to settle their accounts before the tax title taking by the city.

Alert Sounds In Los Angeles Area

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, May 1.—Presence of "unidentified targets later identified as friendly" resulted in an alert and a 36-minute radio silence in the Los Angeles area from 12:59 A. M. (PWT) to 1:35 A. M. today.

The "Blue Alert," indicating the approach of unidentified planes or surface craft off the coast, was flashed by the fourth interceptor command at 12:59 A. M. (PWT) two minutes after a "yellow" or preliminary alert was sounded.

The warning covered a 50-mile radius of Los Angeles. Elsewhere in California broadcasting stations were placed on "restricted operations" by the federal communications commission.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

In spite of the conditions . . . there are a lot of people who have real faith in their country and community. Look at the stores that have been fixed up since last fall . . . New fronts . . . New interiors and several even have changed location. All so they can better serve the great American Buying Public. If we all keep our faith and do the right things this condition that seems to be bearing down on us with such great force will be a memory . . . A memory that our children will study about in their history classes. United States of America was built on brotherly love . . . with each and every one enjoying the freedom that our forefathers fought for . . . We must keep this freedom and we will.

Each day finds more citizens out working on their Victory Gardens . . . All over the county people are working. Ellwood City has turned many lots over to Victory Garden projects . . . New Castle is doing it's share . . . Some are getting the ground plowed but if you are still thinking about it . . . better get busy and act now . . . Pick out the city lot that you would like to garden . . . If you don't know the owner of the property call this office or the City Building and ask for Paul. Most city owned land or partly owned land can be used for Victory Gardens. If in doubt about the soil . . . have it tested by taking a sample to the county farm agent, located in the Post Office Building. Garden carefully . . . seeds and fertilizer are scarce.

Working night and day . . . Blasting . . . Hauling . . . Sweating . . . But with a song in their heart. Men are working on the old steel mill property . . . They are tearing down so they can build up . . . Build up a fine plant . . . A fine plant for a fine concern . . . A concern that is new to New Castle . . . New now, but old friends in a few months. Men of this community are going back to work . . . Work that will give them something to live for. . . . Money that they can spend on their children . . . Smiles are on the faces of our good citizens. New Castle is on the march.

General Motors Stock Is Liable For State Tax

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, May —Pennsylvania's holders of General Motors Corporation stock are liable for payment of the personal property tax for 1942, acting Secretary of Revenue Walter J. Kress, announced today.

Kress said some stockholders who had previously paid the tax had withheld payment this year until a determination could be had of whteher they were liable, in view of the fact that the parent corporation had begun business in the state.

Kress said that at a conference attended by representatives of the Department of Revenue and the auditor General's department it was determined that the General Motors Corporation was not doing business in the state as of January 1, 1942 and was therefore not yet subject to payment of the franchise tax. Kress explained that payment of the franchise tax would have spared stockholders in Pennsylvania the necessity of paying the personal property tax, which amounts to four mills in the state and the same in the counties.

Hundreds of claims for refunds were also filed by shareholders who had already paid their tax, but under today's decision these will be refused. Approximately $6,000,000 worth of stock was said to be involved.

Personal property taxes were payable by February 15 and those who failed to pay are liable to the payment of interest and penalties.

KEEPS YOUR STOCKINGS ON

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Keep your stockings on, girls.

There is only one factory in the East equipped to convert women's silk hosiery into powder bags, according to Paul Zachhausen, secretary of the New York City Salvage committee.

"That factory is upstate and it gets all the stockings it needs from the local bells," Zechhausen said. "There really is no need for New York girls to contribute."

"STIR BUZZ" THREAT TO KILLER

—Central Press Phonephoto

Seldom-heard "stir buzz" spread through Colorado state penitentiary as convicts, like the populace, assumed a threatening attitude toward Donald H. Fearn, 26, of Pueblo, Colo., who allegedly confessed the torture, criminal assault and murder of 16-year-old Alice Porter. Fearn was taken to the penitentiary for safe-keeping when officials feared that enraged citizens might attempt violence. The railroader is pictured above as he was questioned. On the table in front of him are the hammer and gun used in the slaying.
